History

- St. Valentine's Day as a lovers festival dates at least from 14th century. However, St Valentine is rather a mysterious figure. In ancient Rome there were two martyrs of that name. one of them was a priest who perished in 269AD, the other was a bishop who perished in 273 AD. It is said that before the execution he sent a note of friendship to his jailers blind daughter and signed it "Your Valentine".

The customs

- The custom of choosing a Valentine's Day sweetheart may go back to the Lupercalia, a fertility festival of ancient Rome, which was held in the middle of February. Young Roman girls decorated love messages and put them in a large box. Unmarried young men drew the names from the box and in this way chose their partners for the festival.
