Tea arrives in Great Britain

In 1597 tea was first mentioned in English culture. At that time special ships, called clippers, carried tea from China to Britain.

In 1657 Caraway's Coffee House in London was the first place in Britain to advertise tea. The advertisements said that tea was an amazing medicine to help all illnesses. Coffee houses became men's clubs, so women did not go there.

The English know how to make tea and what it does for you.

- Seven cups of it make you up in the morning;
- nine cups will put you to sleep at night.
- If you are hot, tea will cool you off, and if you are cold, it will warm you up.
- If you take it in the middle of the morning,
It will stimulate you for further work;
- if you drink it in the afternoon,
it will relax you for further thought.

Then, of course, you should drink lots of it in off hours.

The test of good tea is simple.

- If a spoon stands up in it, then it is strong enough;
- if the spoon starts to wobble, it is a feeble makeshift.

“If you are cold,
tea will warm you;
if you are too
heated, it will cool
you;
If you are depressed, it will cheer you;
If you are excited,
it will calm you.”
