- I, like most people on the planet, think that summer is the best time of the year. Weather and nature have a rest and active sports.

- I love summer for the fact that it is then that the most interesting events occur. This is not strange, because all my free time I spent with my family and close friends.

- I went to visit my grandparents. They live in a large village. I always really like these trips. After all, with a grandmother and grandfather is not boring. We often went to the forest for mushrooms and berries. Almost every evening we went to the river where we had picnics.

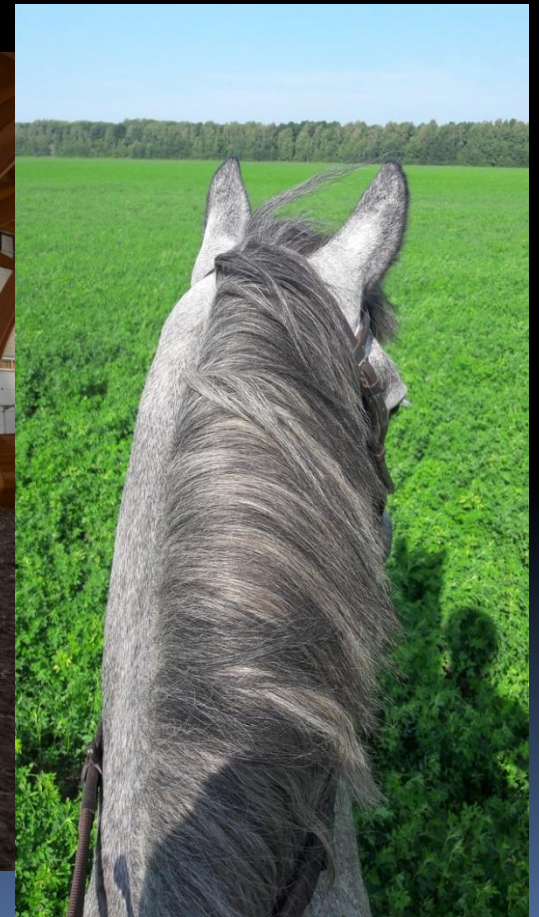

- All the rest of the time I spent in the city, devoting all days to equestrian sport. Sport is health. The horse has become my best friend and partner, which I can always rely on.

- I went to the fields, jumped over the barriers and just enjoyed the moments with the horses. Now I understand well what a correct step I made for myself when I connected my life with equestrian sport.

- On weekends, I used to walk around town with close people. It is a pity that this time flashed so quickly.

- Summer has left a lot of pleasant impressions in my memory. I had a great time, had a good rest, and received a huge charge of vivacity for the whole academic year. My summer was very interesting!
