

Glad to see you, our organised students!

English Club is believed to be a really nice organization.
But only together
we can provide its cleanness!

Will you help us, please!

Will you watch the videos about the order at English Club, please!
Miss Irene (the principal) and all the teachers
hope that you will always help us!

A close-up photograph of a computer keyboard key. The key is a vibrant blue color with rounded corners and is positioned slightly above and to the right of its base. The word "Test" is printed on the top surface of the key in a bold, white, sans-serif font. The background shows other keys of the keyboard, which are a light cream or off-white color, slightly out of focus. The lighting is bright, creating a soft shadow of the key on the surface below it.

Ben Charles: a young businessman with a heart

Ben Charles is an American teenager and like many other sixteen-year-olds, he loves doing sports. He's probably playing basketball right now. He's also very interested in clothes and fashion. He enjoys collecting sports shoes or 'sneakers' as he calls them. His collection includes shoes for playing tennis and basketball, and trainers for meeting his friends.

There's a difference between Ben and his friends. He's got a small business which makes and sells sports shoes. Ben doesn't sell his shoes because he would like to be rich; he sells them to help others. All Ben's trainers look the same and they all cost $50. When you buy Ben's trainers, he gives a free pair to someone who hasn't got the money to buy them.

It all started two years ago when Ben found a photo of a young child without shoes. At that moment Ben understood that he's very lucky. There are a lot of young people around the world who can't buy trainers. Unlike Ben, they have to play sports like basketball without shoes.

If you'd like more information about Ben and his trainers, you can find him on Facebook or visit the the SavesByB website.
