

The importance
Of English in my life

“how many languages you know so many times you a man”

There is a good quotation “how many languages you know so many times you are a man”. I think it is really so. I also think that persons should learn as much foreign languages as possible as it makes the outlook wider. Moreover knowing several foreign languages brings many opportunities to life.

Why is English today international?

1. English - world language To date, English has become an international language, it is the most common in the world. For more than 400 million people, he is a native, for 300 million he remains a second language, and another 500 million to some extent speak English.

2. English - the language of trade and business

In many countries, English occupies a very important place as a language of diplomacy, trade and business. 90% of the world's transactions are in English. World financial funds and exchanges operate in English. Financial giants and large corporations use English regardless of the country they are in.

4. English is the language of travel

In many countries, English occupies a very important place as a language of diplomacy, trade and business. 90% of the world's transactions are in English. World financial funds and exchanges operate in English. Financial giants and large corporations use English regardless of the country they are in.

5. English - the language of science and technology

English became the language of the XXI century - the century of technological progress and information technology. Today, all instructions and programs for new gadgets are written in English. Scientific reports, articles, reports are published in English. 90% of Internet resources are English-speaking. The overwhelming majority of information in all spheres - science, sports, news, entertainment - is published in English.

6. English is the language of youth

English has become the language of youth culture. American actors, actresses, musicians have been and remain idols of more than one generation of people. Hollywood and today - the undisputed leader of the film industry. Cult American militants and blockbusters look in English all over the world. From America came jazz, blues, rock'n'roll and many other styles of music that are still popular.

7. English is the universal language

In addition to all of the above, English is beautiful, melodic and easy to learn. English has one of the richest vocabulary in the world, but it has a simple grammar. The words themselves are attracted to each other, forming laconic and understandable sentences. The international language should be simple and understandable. Perhaps we are very fortunate that it is such a simple language that unites the world.

Conclusions

Based on all of the above, you can understand how important English is. For me it is like an instrument for life, work, study, communication with friends. As a means of leisure, music, films, games. Today we can say with confidence that in the 21st century English is the international language No. 1. How long it will remain international, it is difficult to say. But, definitely, this status will be preserved for more than a decade.

I advise everyone to make efforts to learn foreign languages ...
