

TYPES OF BRITISH HOUSES

THE MAIN TYPES OF ENGLISH HOUSES

a block
of flats

a cottage

a caravan

a mansion

a detached
house

a semi-deta ched
house

a hut

a terrace(d)
house

a farmhouse

a
bungalow

a
skyscraper

a chalet

A BLOCK OF FLATS

A flat is part of a bigger building where all the flats share a front door.

A DETACHED HOUSE

A detached house is not joined to any other house.

A SEMI-DETACHED HOUSE

A semi detached house is a house which is joined to another house on one side.

A TERRACE(D) HOUSE

Terrace house is a house which is part of a line of houses. It is a house which is joined to other houses on two sides.

A MANSION

A mansion is large and impressive house: the large house of a wealthy person.

A COTTAGE

A cottage is a small house, usually of only one story. It is a small, modest house at a lake, mountain resort, etc., owned or rented as a vacation home.

A CARAVAN

A caravan is a vehicle
equipped for living in,
typically towed (буксируемый)
by a car and used for holidays.

A FARMHOUSE

A farmhouse is a house attached to a farm, esp the dwelling (жилище) from which the farm is managed.

A HUT

A hut is a small or humble dwelling of simple construction, especially one made of natural materials, as of logs or grass.

A BUNGALOW

A bungalow is a house that usually has only one storey.

A SKYSCRAPER

A skyscraper is a very tall building
with many stories.

A CHALET

A chalet is a small wooden house, especially in a mountain area or a holiday camp.