Writing Part I

You have just returned from an Intersun holiday in Spain, which was very disappointing. You decide to write a letter to the company to complain about your holiday and ask for some money back. Carefully read the advertisement below and your notes.

Intersun Holidays

Need a holiday? Want to relax?

Why not choose an Intersun holiday?

We offer:

- 1- or 2-week holidays
- 1st-class accommodation in a luxury hotel with a swimming pool
- Rooms with balconies and a sea view
- All meals included and prepared by qualified chefs
- A range of excursions

no water in pool most of the time

One trip!

Hotel looked onto a building site!

mainly sandwiches

3

Write your letter in 120–150 words in an appropriate style.

After reading the tips, start making up the plan!

Before you write the letter, think about:

- Who you are writing the letter to. Should you start with Dear Sir, and end with Yours faithfully, or start Dear Mr Smith, and end with Yours sincerely,?
- Why you are writing the letter. I am writing to complain about.
- What information you need to include and what information is irrelevant. Is it necessary to inform the reader about what you expected from the holiday when writing a letter of complaint about a holiday?
- What you want from them. A refund, a discount on your next holiday.
- What vocabulary would be useful.
A partial refund, disappointing, the room looked out onto a building site, etc.
- What functional language is appropriate.
I would be grateful if you could is more appropriate than I want you to.

Example to revise:

Dear Mr. Smith:

- #1 I am writing you this letter to express my disappointment about your customer service.
- #2 I ordered a laptop via your website, but the wrong one got delivered at my home. I have sent this laptop back, but did not get the right one in return. I have already called several times, without any luck.
- #3 If you do not reply within a week, I will be forced to take legal actions.

Yours sincerely,
April Rose

You deserve a film!

- A 50
- B 30
- C 80

	24
--	----

25 Why does his company need a new IT system?

- A because the company is doing very well
- B because the Internet doesn't work
- C because the printer is old and slow

	25
--	----

26 What is Mr Farmer's main requirement for his company's new IT system?

- A It must not break down often.
- B It must not cost a lot of money.
- C It must store client addresses.

	26
--	----

27 How does his company count the time its employees spend at work?

- A using an electronic diary
- B by writing down the hours worked
- C with an automated system

	27
--	----

28 Why is Mr Farmer unhappy with the company which provided the computer system he has now?

- A The printer failed repeatedly.
- B The price was too high.
- C The after-sales service was poor.

	28
--	----

29 Why has Mr Farmer called this particular IT company?

- A He has used this company for many years.
- B He found the company on the Internet.
- C He was told about the company by a friend.

	29
--	----

30 Most companies make changes to their computer systems

- A every year.
- B every two years.
- C very often.

	30

Part 3 Decision making (pairwork) (3 minutes)

Your cousin Jane is celebrating her eighteenth birthday and you want to buy her a present so that she will remember the occasion. She prefers indoor to outdoor activities and is always interested in trying out new hobbies and pastimes. Here are some ideas for presents.

- What things might or might not make suitable presents?
- Which two things do you think would make the best presents?

Making suggestions/Giving reasons

- Perhaps/Maybe we could (get her a puppy) since ...
- Why don't we (buy her a camera)? That would mean ...
- I think we should (opt for chocolates) as ...
- I (don't) think (perfume) would be a good idea because ...
- The best choice would be ... . Then she could ...

Accepting suggestions

- That's not a bad idea.
- Yes, let's do that.
- Yes, I suppose we could do that.
- That would be perfect.

Rejecting suggestions

- I don't think so. It might not ...
- It's a nice idea, but ...
- Oh, it's far too (expensive). How about (buying some CDs) instead?
- I think (trainers) would be a bad choice because ...

BUYING A PRESENT

KEY LANGUAGE

Positive Points

Negative Points

watch

elegant, something you can keep as a reminder, practical good quality can be expensive, might not need one

camera

useful, creative, can give a lot of pleasure, take lots of photos, better quality pictures than mobile phone camera expensive to buy, might be more useful for outdoor types, might prefer mobile phone camera

box of chocolates

appropriate for celebrations, almost everyone likes chocolate

not a lasting reminder, fattening for dieters

puppy

adorable, good companion, lots of fun, gives you a sense of responsibility needs lots of looking after, time-consuming, have to take it for walks

trainers

practical, always useful as an extra pair, fashionable too ordinary for a present, too athletic, might not like the style

CDs

add to your music collection, useful at parties/in car

might not suit musical taste, might already have them, prefer to download music to MP3 player

perfume

feminine, luxurious, popular gift

matter of personal choice, not a lasting reminder

Model Interview:

Listen to two candidates doing the speaking task in Part 3 and answer the questions.

- 1 Which items do the candidates feel would make suitable/unsuitable presents? Which two do they finally choose? What reasons do they give to support their decision?
