

MY IDOL

VINER IRINA ALEKSANDROVNA

- Irina Viner is a well-known coach in rhythmic gymnastics, doctor of pedagogical sciences, president of the All-Russian Federation of Rhythmic Gymnastics, Honored Worker of Physical Culture of the Russian Federation.

- She was fond of music from an early age, from the first years of school she played in the school theater, attended ballet. In her youth, Wiener dreamed about the career of an actress, but her parents did not like the idea. To realize her creative potential, her daughter took up artistic gymnastics.

- After the sports career Irina Viner started coaching

- Out of the wing of Irina Viner came the world and European champion Amina Zaripova, the Olympic medalist Yanina Batyrshina, the absolute world and European champion Alina Kabaeva, the winner of the Sydney Olympics Julia Barsukova and others.

- The dream of Viner was to create a separate complex for the training of professional gymnasts. In 2013, she realized this idea and built a residential complex "Olympic Village Novogorsk."

- But the main thing in the life of Irina Viner remains work. "Without work I suffer, I miss, I poison life around, even if there is the most beautiful society around me. Idleness corrodes me like rust, I am comfortable only with my students. From work, I get tremendous pleasure. I generally call it "work" only because it's accepted. "
