

Piano And Violin House

Location: Huainan City, China

Presentation made by: Sechnaya Daria, 0A42

- Piano and Violin Shaped Building was built in 2007 and situated in Huainan City.

- This romantic house was designed by the students of the architectural design faculty of local University of Technology

- Here different modern materials have been used, and basically- the black and transparent glass.

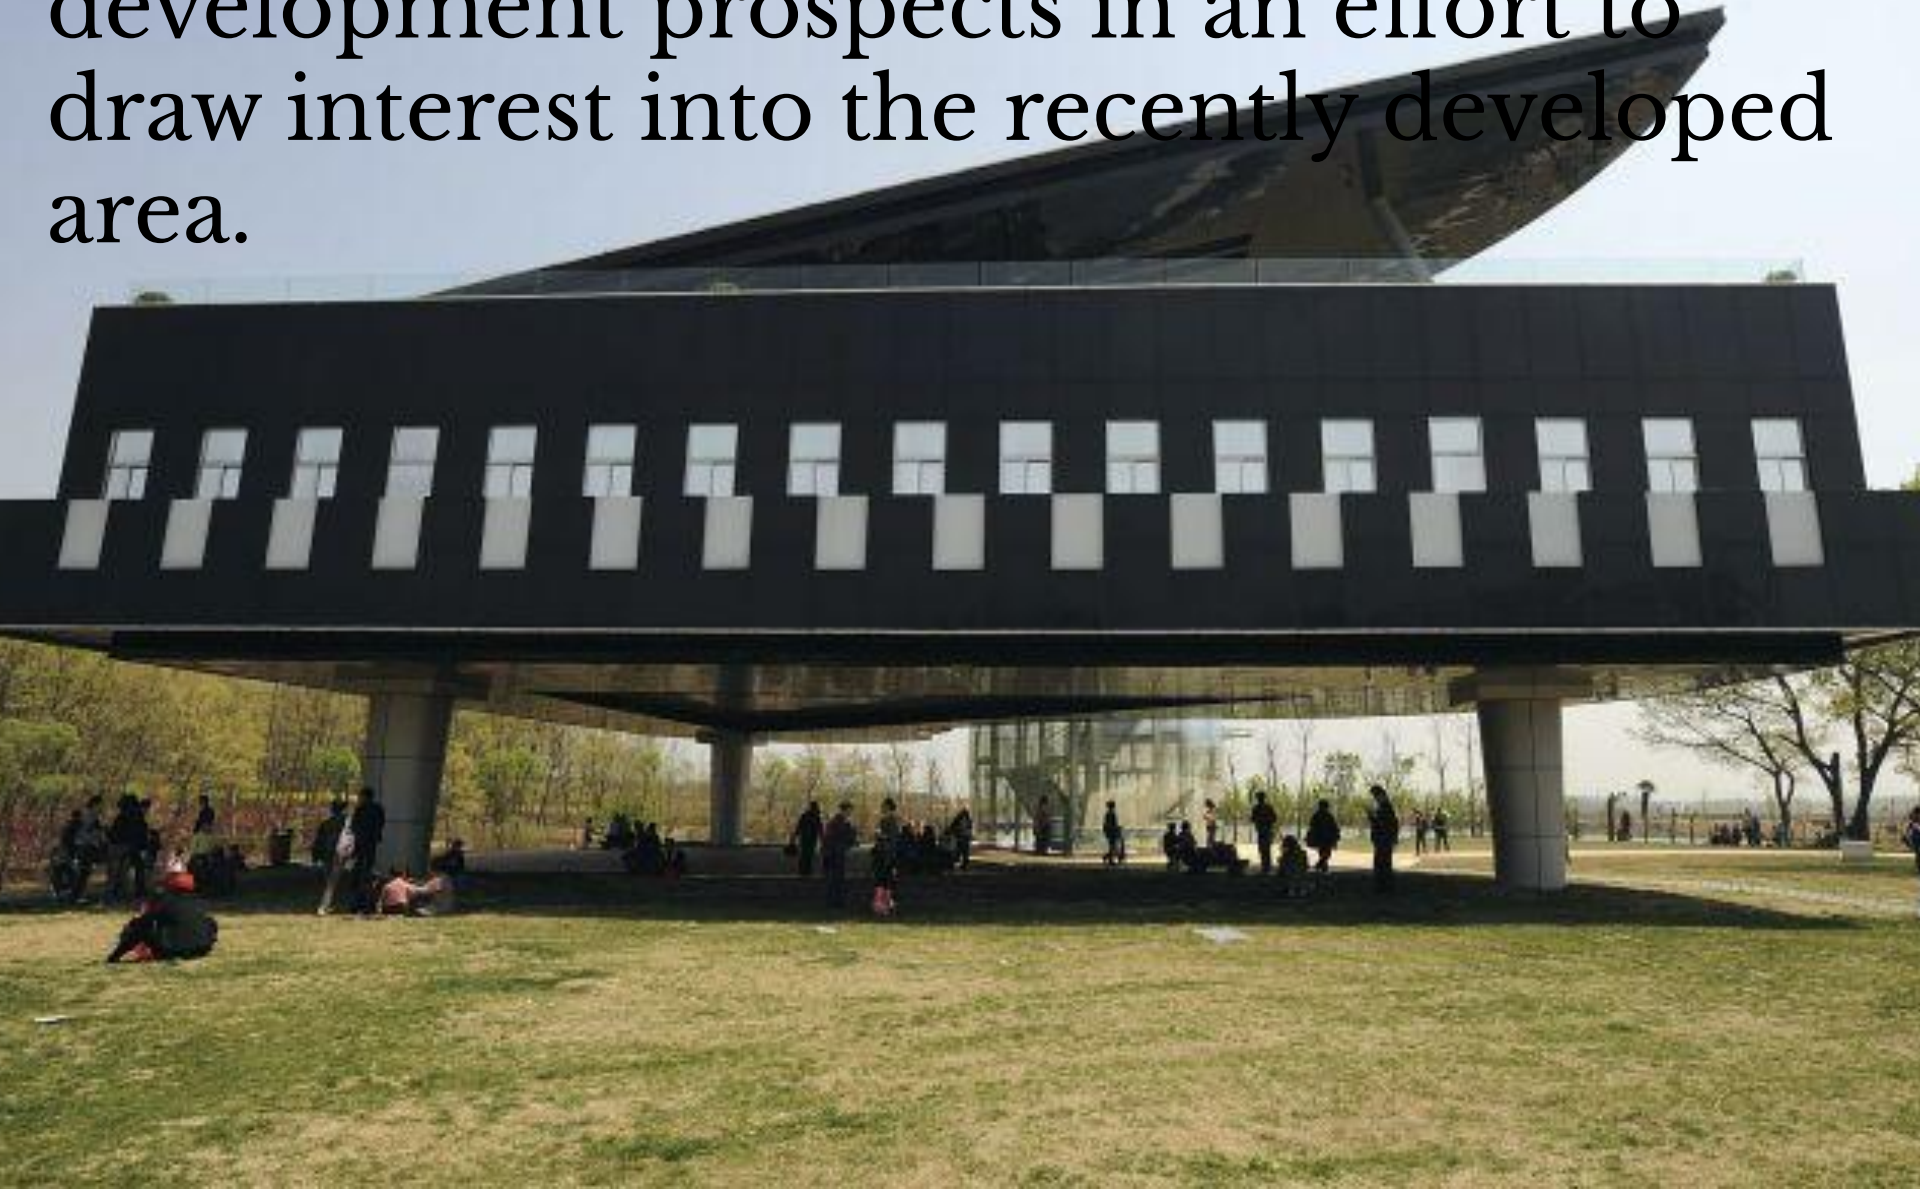

- The building entrance is through a great violin in which there is an

- Piano and violin has built to a scale of 50:1.

There is a breadboard model inside house that displays various city plans and development prospects in an effort to draw interest into the recently developed area.

● Because of its unique shape it has become a popular tourist place. The locals have dubbed it “the most romantic building in China”. Recently developed

Thank you for your attention!