

Harvard University

Harvard is the oldest University in the USA, was founded on 8 September 1636. Named after the English missionary and philanthropist John Harvard.

In the service of the University of about 2,100 professors, lecturers and instructors training 6517 students. symbol of Harvard is crimson, the same color of the Harvard sports teams and University newspaper.

The leadership of Harvard are two of the administrative organization: the University President and fellows (also known as the "Harvard Corporation") and the Harvard Board of overseers (controllers). The University President is the most responsible person having control over the entire educational process.

Year of study at Harvard University at a cost of around $42 thousand. At the moment, two thirds of Harvard students receive financial aid. This also applies to foreign and Russian applicants.

Faculties (Faculties or Schools): Harvard enters the group of elite American universities called the ivy League.

