

Education in France

Mamedova Ofelia
Semenova Anna
10-1

Education in France is mandatory from 6 to 18 years. The basic principles of French education: the freedom of teaching (public and private institutions), the free education, the neutrality of education.

Primary education

Primary education consists of two stages: kindergarten and primary school. Going to kindergarten is not necessary, but to date almost 100% of children aged 3 to 5 years are studying in kindergarten

Secondary education

Secondary education is divided into two levels (college and lyceum) and lasts seven years.

After primary school you going to colleges in 11 year, college is considered the first stage of secondary education. Education in the college in France is mandatory, the study is designed for 4 years (from 6 to 3 grade). In college, classes are counted in reverse order: the student enters the sixth grade, after four years he completes the third

Higher education

Higher education is available only with a bachelor's degree. The system of higher education in France is distinguished by a great variety of universities and proposed disciplines.

System have some directions of education:

- French
- mathematics
- life together
- knowledge of the world
- art education

Types of Higher Education in France

- 1) Short higher education. Education lasts two to three years, after which graduates receive a DUT or BTS. This kind of higher education is prepared mainly by specialists in the field of industry or in the service sector.
- 2) Long-term higher education. This type of higher education is given in universities and higher schools

Tolerance here is given great attention. All educational sites (schools, museums, universities) are fully equipped for disabled people and people with disabilities

school uniform in france

- In France, a uniform school uniform existed only in 1927-1968