Childhood

- Steve jobs was born on February 24, 1955 in San Francisco. Young people were not married, Joan's parents categorically did not perceive her chosen one. The boy was adopted by the couple jobs-Paul and Clara.

COMPANY APPLE

- Jobs offered Wozniak to create a joint company for the production of computers. This is how Apple was born During the creation of the first Apple computer. Their first creation was quite primitive, it looked like an ordinary typewriter, only electronic. In 1976, Wozniak completed work on improving the new Board, and it was able to transmit sound, color, and work with external media.

Leaving the company

- The result of endless conflicts was the removal of jobs from work, and in 1984, he left his own company. He is founding a new company, NeXT Computer. Then he buys out Pixar. A long time passes and he decides to return to APPLE.

- Steve jobs was unique in that he did not just keep up with the times, he created this time himself, he was the initiator of a new fashion in the IT industry. Apple was the first among the others to start delivering media players, music players, touch-sensitive mobile phones, and Internet tablets to the market.

ILLNESS AND DEATH

- Steve last appeared in public on June 6, 2011. A few years earlier, doctors found that he had a disease that cannot be treated – cancer.
