AMENDMENTS

Since the Constitution came into force in 1789, it has been amended 27 times, including an amendment to repeal a previous one, in order to meet the needs of a nation that has profoundly changed since the eighteenth century.

In general, the first ten amendments, known collectively as the Bill of Rights, offer specific protections of individual liberty and justice and place restrictions on the powers of government

The First Amendment lays out five basic freedoms: freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly, and the freedom to petition the government.

The Second Amendment supports the right to own firearms, protects the right to keep and bear arms

The Third Amendment prohibits the government from forcing citizens to give lodging to soldiers in their homes without permission.

The Fourth Amendment prevents the government or police from searching or seizing the homes, belongings, or bodies of citizens without probable cause or a warrant.

The Fifth Amendment gives people accused of crimes a variety of rights and protections.

The Sixth Amendment guarantees people accused of a crime receive fair and accurate criminal proceedings

The Seventh Amendment provides for the right to trial by jury in certain civil cases, according to common law

The Eighth Amendment prohibits excessive fines and excessive bail, as well as cruel and unusual punishment

The Ninth Amendment protects rights not enumerated in the Constitution

The 10th Amendment leaves any powers not specifically assigned to the federal government to each state or to the people.

The 11th Amendment Makes states immune from suits from out-of-state citizens and foreigners not living within the state borders; lays the foundation for sovereign immunity

The 12th Amendment Revises presidential election procedures by having the president and vice president elected together as opposed to the vice president being the runner up in the presidential election

The 13th Amendment abolishes slavery, and involuntary servitude, except as punishment for a crime

The 14th Amendment Defines citizenship, contains the Privileges or Immunities Clause, the Due Process Clause, the Equal Protection Clause, and deals with post-Civil War issues

The 15th Amendment Prohibits the denial of the right to vote based on race, color or previous condition of servitude

The 16th Amendment

The 17th Amendment

The 18th Amendment

The 19th Amendment

The 20th Amendment

The 21st Amendment !!

The 21st amendment to the US Constitution, adopted in December 1933, performs only one function — it terminates the 18th amendment, which prohibited the production, sale, transportation, export and import of alcoholic beverages in the United States. Prohibition acted for 14 years, until President Roosevelt persuaded them that they didn't give any measures and did not initiate the adoption of the 21st amendment. This is the only case in the history of the United States where an amendment to an earlier amendment has been made.
