

Anonymous

Art Galleries

The Queen's Gallery

- The Queen's Gallery is an art gallery. It is open to the public inside Buckingham Palace. A changing selection of paintings and other work of art from the royal collections are on display. The Gallery was opened in 1962.

- The National Gallery is an art gallery in Trafalgar Square. It contains the largest permanent collection of western paintings in Britain. Most of them were painted between 1200 and 1900. It houses one of the most important collections of Italian painting outside Italy.

The Tate Gallery

- The Tate Gallery is one of London's best-known art galleries. It was opened in 1897 with the financial support of Sir Henry Tate, who also gave a collection of 65 paintings. The Gallery contains a unique collection of British paintings from the 16th century to the present day. It also contains modern foreign paintings and modern sculpture.

The Barbican Art Gallery

- The Barbican Art Gallery is a part of the cultural Barbican Centre in London.

