Biography.

Juan Martín del Potro born (23 September 1988), also known as Delpo, is an Argentinian professional tennis player who is currently ranked world No. 11 in men's singles by the Association of Tennis Professionals (ATP). His biggest achievement has been winning the 2009 US Open, defeating Rafael Nadal in the semifinal and 5-time defending champion Roger Federer in the final. He was the first to defeat both Federer and Nadal during the same major and was the only man outside the Big Four to win a major between the 2005 French Open and the 2013 US Open, a span of 35 tournaments. He is also the second Argentine and the fifth-youngest man to win the US Open in the Open Era. Other career highlights include winning the bronze medal in men's singles at the 2012 London Olympics and the silver medal at the 2016 Rio Olympics and being part of his country's successful Davis Cup team; but his career has also been hampered by a succession of wrist injuries.

Dark horse

- Having won in 2009 the Open championship of the USA in singles (in the final Roger Federer has been played); del Potro has interrupted 5 years' domination of the Federer on courts of New York. Prior to this match of del Potro has conceded to Federer of 6 times in 6 meetings. Besides, Juan Martin became only the second tennis player after Rafael Nadal winning Federer the finals of Grand Slam tournaments.
- He is capable to win the strongest tennis players of the planet, though doesn't enter into Big Four. ХМДП has got two injuries of a wrist and He passed 1.5 years on recovery of hand. Then he was traumatized on other wrist and has passed 6 more months. This player has very hard sport destiny with a set of dark strips. But he doesn't give up. Today he is one of the best players of the planet capable to win Grand Slam tournaments and to beat Roger Federer or Rafael Nadal.
