

BIOGRAPHY OF NAPOLEON BONAPARTE

Emperor of the French in 1804-1814 and 1815, commander and statesman, laid the foundations of the modern French state, one

CHILDHOOD AND YOUTH

Born: August 15, 1769, Ajaccio, Corsica, Kingdom of France

After homeschooling in sacred history and literacy, in the sixth year Napoleon Bonaparte went to a private school and in 1779 to the king's account-to a military school in Brienne.

Napoleon at the age of 16

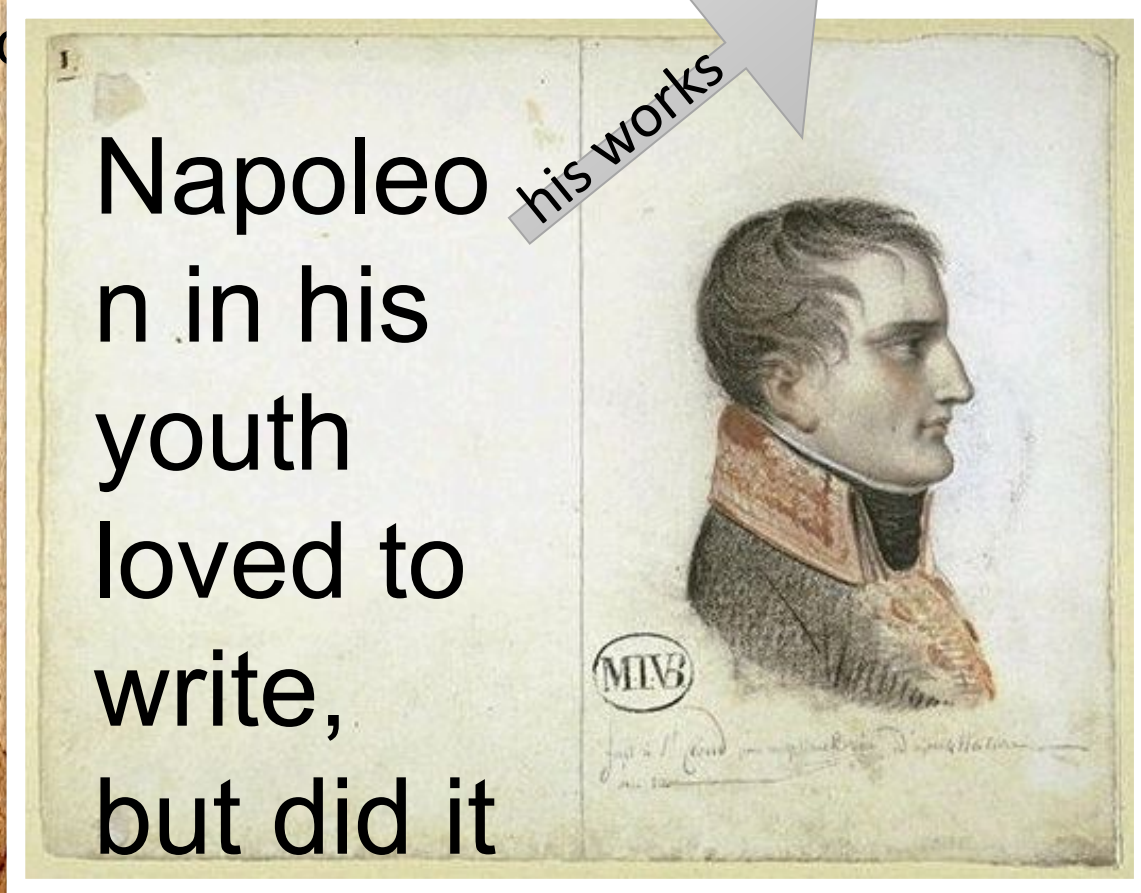

Napoleon began serving at the age of 16. At the age of 24, he was already a General. Bonaparte was a good strategist. His military campaigns in his youth were successful.

Napoleon in his youth loved to write, but did it

his works

Italian campaign
1796-1797 Napoleon
glorified throughout Western Europe

In 1804, Napoleon
Bonaparte became Emperor of

Won a series of brilliant victories over the armies of the European coalition — of Marengo (1804), of Austerlitz, the Yen and Auerstedt (1806), Wagram (1809), which led him to have dominion over most of Europe.

Striving for world domination, Napoleon in 1812 attacked Russia and as a result of the heroic the resistance of the Russian army was defeated. The Napoleonic Empire was defeated and Paris was taken by allied forces in 1814. Napoleon abdicated and was exiled to the island of Elba, retaining the title of Emperor.

A year later landed on the coast of France and moved to Paris, where the government of king Louis XVIII.

The Emperor's new reign lasted only a hundred days and ended with his defeat at the battle of Waterloo in June 1815.

He had to abdicate a second time. Napoleon was exiled to St. Helena.

THE END

