Your English

Description du podcast

"Your English" is a series of podcasts to help you learn to speak English with short sentences for you to repeat or complete orally. The accent is American. The vocabulary is basic with an emphasis on global English. For grammar drills go to "QualityTime-ESL podcasts" or "5 minute TOPs". "Your English" Podcasts are designed for different levels from A2 to C1, i.e. for pre-intermediates to advanced learners. To ask questions or make...

QualityTime-ESL - English Drills and Practice

Description du podcast

QualityTime-ESL podcasts are recordings aimed at helping people who have learned the basic grammar and vocabulary but still feel "blocked" when trying to speak English. These podcasts (about 10 minutes long) are designed both for students working on their own and for teachers looking for oral drills that focus on essential knowledge of English grammar. They are ideal for international exams and university courses or anyone, who wants to...

To the right of the video player is an "Interactive Transcript" section with a language dropdown set to "English" and a "Close Transcript" button. The transcript text reads: "I grew up in a very small village in Canada, and I'm an undiagnosed dyslexic. I had a really hard time in school. In fact, my mother told me eventually that I was the little kid in the village who cried all the way to school. I ran away. I left when I was 25 years old to go to Bali. And there I met my incredible wife, Cynthia, and together over 20 years, we built an amazing jewelry business. It was a fairy tale, and then we retired. Then she took me to see a film that I really didn't want to see. It ruined my life -- (Laughter) 'An Inconvenient Truth' and Mr. Gore. I have four kids, and even if part of what he says is true, they're not going to have the life that I had. And I decided at that moment that I would spend the rest of my life doing whatever I could to improve their possibilities. So here's the world, and here we are in Bali. It's a tiny, little island -- 60 miles by 90 miles. It

Tidbits of Advice

With videos → Soundtrack first

- Switch off video → just soundtrack
- Work on script (gap-fills, Qs, notes)
- Video afterwards → reactions!

Input & Assimilation

- Grammar & vocabulary with oral drills

- ✓ Out of class or in lab

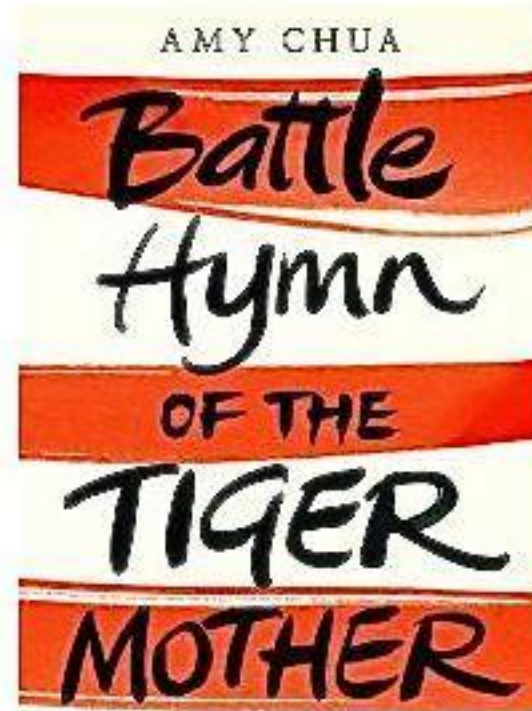

- Without scripts

- With worksheets (weak students)

- ✓ In class PW → scripts to check assimilation

Choose by categories or type in the speaker's name

The screenshot shows the TED Talks website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the TED logo and the tagline "Ideas worth spreading". Below the logo, there are several menu items: Themes, Speakers, Talks, and Translations. The "Speakers" menu is currently selected, showing a list of categories: TED Conferences, TED Community, About TED, TEDx Events (marked as NEW), TED Prize, and TED Fellows. A search bar is located to the right of the menu items.

Below the navigation bar, there is a section titled "TALKS" with a subtitle "Showing 1 - 10 of 830". To the left of the talk grid, there are several filters: "Show talks subtitled in:" with a dropdown menu set to "English"; "Show by event:" with a dropdown menu set to "All Events"; "Show by length:" with a dropdown menu set to "All lengths"; and "Order talks by:" with a list of sorting options: "Newest releases" (selected), "Date filmed", "Most languages", "Most emailed this week", "Most comments this week", "Rated jaw-dropping", "... persuasive", "... courageous", "... ingenious", "... fascinating", "... inspiring", "... beautiful", and "... funny".

The main content area displays a grid of ten talk thumbnails. Each thumbnail includes a small video player icon, a speaker's name, the title of the talk, the duration, the date it was posted, and a "Rated:" section with a category label. The talks shown are:

Example of a TED Talk: Green School

- Choose language of subtitles
- Get the "interactive transcript"
- Copy transcripts for exercises or presentations

The screenshot shows a Firefox browser window displaying the TED website. The address bar shows the URL: http://www.ted.com/talks/john_hardy_my_green_school_dream.html. The page features the TED logo and the tagline "Ideas worth spreading". Below the logo, there are navigation links for Themes, Speakers, Talks, and Translations. The main content area is titled "TALKS" and "John Hardy: My green school dream". A video player is embedded, showing John Hardy on stage with the TED logo. Below the video, there is an "Interactive Transcript" section with a language dropdown set to "English" and a "Close Transcript" button. The transcript text reads: "I grew up in a very small village in Canada, and I'm an undiagnosed dyslexic. I had a really hard time in school. In fact, my mother told me eventually that I was the little kid in the village who cried all the way to school. I ran away. I left when I was 25 years old to go to Bali. And there I met my incredible wife, Cynthia, and together over 20 years, we built an amazing jewelry business. It was a fairy tale, and then we retired. Then she took me to see a film that I really didn't want to see. It ruined my life -- (Laughter) 'An Inconvenient Truth' and Mr. Gore. I have four kids, and even if part of what he says is true, they're not going to have the life that I had. And I decided at that moment that I would spend the rest of my life doing whatever I could to improve their possibilities. So here's the world, and here we are in Bali. It's a tiny, little island -- 60 miles by 90 miles. It

Speakers Sugata Mitra: Education researcher

Sugata Mitra's "Hole in the Wall" experiments have shown that, in the absence of supervision or formal teaching, children can teach themselves and each other, if they're motivated by curiosity and peer interest.

Sugata Mitra shows how kids teach themselves

Sugata Mitra: The child-driven education

17:13 Posted: Sep 2010

Why you should listen to him:

In 1999, Sugata Mitra and his colleagues dug a hole in a wall bordering an urban slum in New Delhi, installed an Internet-connected PC, and left it there (with a hidden camera filming the area). What they saw was kids from the slum playing around with the computer and in the process learning how to use it and how to go online, and then teaching each other.

In the following years they replicated the experiment in other parts of India, urban and rural, with similar results, challenging some of the key assumptions of formal education. The "Hole in the Wall" project demonstrates that, even in the absence of any direct input from a teacher, an environment that stimulates curiosity can cause learning through self-instruction and peer-shared knowledge. Mitra, who's now a professor of educational technology at Newcastle University (UK), calls it "minimally invasive education."

Discussion(+Brainstorming)

A sunset scene with a bright sun on the left, casting a long, colorful reflection on the water. In the foreground, a dark silhouette of a hill or dune has several people standing on top, looking towards the sunset. The sky is a mix of orange, yellow, and blue.
