Part 2: "Solo-poly"

Solo-poly? So you're polyamorous but single, right?

NOPE! I have 3 partners. I'm just not on the "relationship escalator" with any of them. I like to think of myself as my own primary partner.

Some solo-poly folks prefer to live alone while others live with co-parents or in group houses! Solo-poly folks avoid being caught in hierarchical situations, which is difficult when people think "solo-poly" means "side-action ready to be unicorn'd".

Solo-poly can look many different ways but the most common denominator is we're free agents who don't define ourselves by our relationships!
