KING ARTHUR IN BATTLE WITH MORDRED

MODRED IS A CHARACTER IN THE ARTHURIAN LEGEND, KNOWN AS A NOTORIOUS TRAITOR WHO FOUGHT KING ARTHUR AT THE BATTLE OF CAMLANN, WHERE HE WAS KILLED AND ARTHUR WAS FATALLY WOUNDED

King Arthur looked around and from all his army only two knights saw alive. And the king said:

-Jesus merciful! Where did all my noble knights go? Alas! Why did I live to see this sad day ... Where is this traitor Sir Mordred now, whose fault did this whole trouble happen?

Then the king looked back and saw Sir Mordred. He stood leaning on his sword, and around him there was a large pile of dead bodies. Then the king took the spear with both hands and ran on Sir Mordred, shouting:

"Ah, traitor!" Your hour of death has come!

Sir Mordred, seeing the king running towards him, rushed to meet him with a drawn sword in his hand. King Arthur took his son from under the shield and pierced him through the edge of the spear. Sensing a mortal wound, Sir Mordred rushed forward with the last of his strength, so that a spear entered his body, holding the sword in both hands, struck his father, King Arthur, on the side of his head, and cut the sword into the helmet and the skull . Then Sir Mordred crashed to the ground. But even the noble King Arthur fell unconscious on the ground. "
