•I want to tell you about the youth policy in Sweden .In Sweden, since 1998 the youth policy was transferred to the Ministry of Culture. At the same time functioning National Youth Council, the casting vote which are representatives of the government and parliament.

In Sweden, for example, a National Council of Swedish Youth Organizations, which is the coordinating center for the hundreds of NGOs. "

In particular the implementation of its objectives guiding role of the state youth policy is implemented, as experience shows, to a greater extent at the local level. In Sweden, the employment of young people engaged in the municipalities, they also solve the problems of the schools, allocate grants (each year is about 1 million) for the local cultural and youth organizations.

Currently in the field of Social Servicing of the population in the three largest cities in Sweden

Stockholm, Gothenburg and Malmö,
There are 26 thousand, respectively., 14 th. and 6.5 thousand. Social workers, but the share sotsionomov with higher education among them 10 is greater than 13%.

The system of social work in Sweden is one of the most committed in Europe. It is based on the principle of everlasting the value of human life, and its main goal is to create a 21 equitable social structures capable of ensuring the safety of and human development without compromising his dignity.

Social work in Sweden's system is based on the recognition of international* legal acts, such as the Universal Declaration of the RightsMan (1948), the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989), the Convention on Protection of Children and Cooperation in Respect ofAdoption (1993), the Declaration on the Protection of Women and Children in Emergency and Armed Conflict (1974 g), the International Labour Organization and others., regional treaties -European Convention on Human Rights (1950 g), the Helsinki Final Act (1975), the European Social Charter (1961) et al., as well as federal laws, etc.

Let us more detail on the training of specialists on Faculty of Social Work. By the way, the popularity of it spans second place. The faculty increased the requirements for teachers of social work: they must have practical experience. The main purpose of training students - teaching methods of social work, providing social and psychological assistance. Every year seven faculties of social work in Sweden receives about 1000 people. Including the University of Umeå -120 people. The total requirement for incoming -availability complete secondary education and knowledge of Swedish and English corresponding to the level of the second secondary school.

I think that the training of young professionals working with young people is highly developed and extensive in the country. so I think that they give all this activity is much important role!
