Traditional men's suit

- Traditional Ukrainian men's suits have considerable similarity with other East Slavic clothes.

- They are based on shirts made of hemp or linen fabrics, as well as wool or fabric pants. Shirts worn on the body often served as outerwear. A distinctive feature of men's Ukrainian shirts is the presence of the front cut, decorated with embroidery.

Women's traditional costume

- The women's shirt was longer than the men's shirt and was necessarily decorated with embroidery not only on the neck and cuffs, but also on the hem.

- Ukrainian folk costume for girls involves the wearing of shirts without clothing. The shirt, as a rule, consisted of two parts. A married woman was supposed not only to cover her head with a handkerchief, but also to complement her outfit with waist clothes.

Headdresses of Ukrainians

- Headdresses of the Ukrainian men were the most various. This was reflected in the forms, materials and names. Popular forms were cones, cylinders, and a semicircle. There were fur, wool, and hats made of cloth.
- The women's headwear was also present a wide variety, including their purpose. One of the most popular hats that was used by married women, — a square scarf.

Shoes of Ukrainian people

- Shoes Ukrainian people for both sexes made of leather. At first it was not sewn, but folded, tried to wrinkle, and then tied to the legs with long ropes.
