

EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM IN THE UK

The education system in the UK is divided into four main parts, primary education, secondary education, further education and higher education. Children in the UK have to legally attend primary and secondary education which runs from about 5 years old until the student is 16 years old.

Primary Education

(5 - 11 year olds)

In the UK, the first level of education is known as primary education. These are usually located close to the child's home. Children tend to be with the same group, and one teacher has responsibility for most of the work they do.

Secondary Education

From age 11 to 16, students will enter secondary school for to start their move towards taking the GCSE's.

Primary and secondary education is mandatory in the UK; after age 16, education is optional.

Further Education

(16- 18year olds)

Once a student finishes secondary education they have the option to extend into further education to take their A-Levels, GNVQ's, or other such qualifications. UK students planning to go to college or university must complete further education.

Higher Education

Around 30% of the 18 to 19 year olds enter full-time higher education. The formal entry requirements to most degree courses are two A-levels at grade E or above.

TYPES OF SCHOOLS IN BRITAIN

There are two different types of school:

- state schools
- private schools

STATE SCHOOLS

- There are schools run by the Government. These schools are known as State Schools and parents do not pay. They are financed by public funds, which means that the money comes from the national and local taxes. Ninety percent of children in England and Wales attend a state school.

STATE SCHOOLS ARE DIVIDED INTO THE FOLLOWING TYPES:

- Grammar schools
- Technical schools
- Modern schools
- Comprehensive schools

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS

- Children who go to grammar schools are usually those who show a preference for academic subjects, although many grammar schools now also have some technical courses.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS

- Some children go to technical schools. Most courses there are either commercial or technical.

MODERN SCHOOLS

- Boys and girls who are interested in working with their hands and learning in a practical way can go to a technical school and learn some trade.

COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOLS

- These schools usually combine all types of secondary education. They have physics, chemistry, biology laboratories, machine workshops for metal and woodwork and also geography, history and art departments, commercial and domestic courses.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS

- All students at private schools must pay. Typical fees for 2011 at a private boarding school in Britain are £24,000 per year (inclusive of accommodation and meals). The fees at private schools are exactly the same for British students as for overseas students.

EXAMINATIONS

All students must take two very important examinations:

- GCSE
- A-level
