

Bryansk State University named after
I.G.Petrovsky

Faculty of Foreign Languages

Created by Pavlichkova Liza and Silenok Liza

GROUP 202

The faculty of foreign languages is one of the oldest faculties of Bryansk state University. It was founded in 1952. In 2012, the faculty celebrated its 60th anniversary. The first Dean of the faculty of foreign languages was Iosif Zinovievich Halemsky. At different times the Department was headed by Yastrebov V. V., Shadrin V. I. Shevlyakov, O. N., Vyaschenko, HP, Cheslavskaya L. A. Since 2006 the faculty is headed by Professor Rossikhina Galina Nikolaevna. Over the years of its progressive development, the faculty has acquired not only a highly qualified and friendly team of teachers, but also a lot of dedicated graduates.

The specialized departments of the faculty have 22 teachers with academic degrees of candidate of Sciences, 2 teachers have the academic degree of doctor of Philology. Currently, 6 teachers are enrolled in graduate school. Departments of the faculty are headed by: the Department of English language and teaching methodology - candidate of philological Sciences, Professor A. V. Kiryanov, Department of German language – candidate of Philology, associate Professor L. V. Amelina, Department of French language Department - candidate of philological Sciences, associate Professor Kosareva I. V., the Department of the theory of English language and translation studies - the candidate of pedagogical Sciences, associate Professor I. V. Barynkina

Scientific work of the faculty

Teachers of the faculty of foreign languages actively participate in scientific work, take part in all Russian and international conferences and round tables and even go abroad.

Active research work is also carried out by the Scientific and educational center of foreign languages and translation studies, established on the basis of the faculty. The scientific and educational center of foreign languages and translation studies is a scientific structural unit of the research Institute. The main purpose of the center is to conduct scientific and methodological linguistic research

Forum of teachers of English

International cooperation

The faculty of foreign languages closely cooperates with educational institutions of Bryansk and the region. Students of the direction of training "Pedagogical education" of the faculty are trained on the basis of the leading educational institutions of Bryansk and the region. The bases of practice of students majoring in Translation studies are the Bryansk chamber of Commerce, the Committee on youth policy, physical culture and sports of the Bryansk region, travel agencies.

The faculty cooperates with leading Universities of the Russian Federation: Moscow State Institute of international relations, University of the Ministry of foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation, Pedagogical University in Moscow, Saint-Petersburg State University, Nizhny Novgorod State linguistic University named after N.. Koroleva and etc.

Diplomatic Academy in Vienna

Extracurricular activities

The faculty of foreign languages traditionally pays great attention to extracurricular activities of students. Students take an active part in the preparation and conduct different events: Knowledge Day, Dedication to freshmen, competition of social projects, festivals of Amateur creativity "Freshman" and "Student spring", "Miss BSU" and etc. Our students often become winners in many categories.

A significant event in the life of the faculty – prom, which is traditionally held as a stage theater, prepared by teachers and students of the faculty.

At the faculty there are two organizations of student government: trade Union of students and student activists of the faculty.

Performance of the dance team

Festival of the French language

Department of English language and methods of teaching

The Department of English language was established by the decision of the University Council in 1953. In 1995, it was renamed as the Department of English Philology, and since 2012 it is called the Department of English language and methods of teaching.

The Department of English language and methods of teaching prepares highly qualified teaching staff for educational institutions of different levels: schools, colleges, universities. Graduates of the Department successfully carry out their professional activities in schools, gymnasiums, lyceums, colleges and universities of the Bryansk region, Moscow, St. Petersburg, near and far abroad, including the United States, Ireland and other countries.

Department of English language theory and translation studies

The Department of English language theory and translation studies was established by the rector's order in January 14, 1998. Currently, the Department has 14 full-time teachers, including 8 candidates of Sciences and one doctor of Sciences, Professor. Teachers of the Department train students at the faculty of history and international relations in the specialty "International relations" and "regional Studies", which provides training of referents, experts, consultants, translators to work in scientific and educational institutions, as well as in state organizations (primarily in international departments of enterprises, travel agencies, customs and border agencies).

Students studying at these specialties have the opportunity to make educational and tourist trips to the countries of the studied language twice a year.

Department of German language

The Department of German language prepares highly qualified teachers of the German language for full-time and correspondence courses, translators of the German language. Graduates of the Department work in educational institutions of the Bryansk region, as well as in leading universities in Moscow, St. Petersburg and other cities of Russia. Many graduates continue their education in German universities. The Department of German language was established in 1952 within the walls of Novozybkov pedagogical Institute. In different years the Department was headed by N. I Izmailova, candidates of philological Sciences, M. Surinov and M. Vasilyev.

Department of French language

The Department of French language was founded in 1954. In different years the Department was successfully head by highly skilled professionals, L. I. Solov'eva, V. V. Pravikov In the 80s the Department was headed by candidate of Philology, Shumeiko, V. N., Bolejko A. F., L. A. Cheslavskaya. Currently, the Department is headed by candidate of Philology, associate Professor I. V. Kosareva.

Students are actively involved in scientific work : a part of the Student scientific society of the faculty of foreign languages has published 4 scientific articles in the collections of student work; in different years the students of the Department published 15 papers in collaboration; we received a grant of Belarusian state University.

Scientific and educational center of foreign languages and translation studies

Scientific and educational center of foreign languages and translation studies is a scientific structural unit of the research Institute. The main purpose is to conduct scientific and methodological linguistic research, as well as the formation of language competence in such a volume, which is necessary for creative and qualification activities in all professional fields and situations.

We study

- English
- German
- French
- Norwegian
- Italian
- Spanish
- Polish

During the training, all kinds of speech activities are involved: reading, speaking, writing and listening. We study and improve oral speech and grammar. The training system is built in such a way that allows you to achieve noticeable results and people who are starting to learn the language from scratch, and people who have a certain level of knowledge.

THANKS FOR WATCHING!