

Text aims

```
graph TD; A[Text aims] --> B[To inform]; A --> C[To impact]; B --> D[Author's intention];
```

To inform

To impact

Author's intention

- An author presents his worldview
- To evoke readers' emotions
- To evoke reflection (reader should analyze own life experience)
- To entertain a reader
- Hidden message or hidden idea to reveal

«Now the quality of ingratitude was a very objectionable thing to Lester the last and most offensive trait of a debased nature, and to be able to discover a trace of it in Jennie was very disturbing»

«Jennie Gerhardt» by Theodore Dreiser

What is the author's intention?

- An author presents his worldview
- To evoke readers' emotions
- To evoke reflection (reader should analyze own life experience)
- Hidden message or hidden idea to reveal

«For sale, baby shoes, never worn»

Ernest Hemingway

Six-words story

What is the author's intention?

- An author presents his worldview
- To evoke readers' emotions
- To evoke reflection (reader should analyze own life experience)
- Hidden message or hidden idea to reveal