University of Sheffield

Year of foundation: 1905

Location: Sheffield

Facts and figures

The University grew out of the Sheffield Medical School (founded in 1828), Firth College (1879) and the Sheffield Technical School (1884). These three institutions came together in 1897 to form the University College of Sheffield, which in turn became the University of Sheffield in 1905.

Students create assistive technology solutions to help people with disabilities
Students from the University of Sheffield have collaborated with individuals with disabilities to help them overcome everyday challenges using assistive technology
The winning ideas from the project were announced at an open event on International Day of People with Disabilities (3 December 2019)
During the event, inspiration keynote speaker, Dr Kate Allatt, shared her incredible recovery from locked-in syndrome

A city street at dusk, likely in Sheffield, England. In the foreground, two iconic red telephone booths with 'TELEPHONE' signs are visible. The background features historic buildings, including a large curved building on the left and a white building with blue accents in the distance. The sky is a mix of blue and purple, and the street is lit with warm lights.
