

Presented by Aleksandra
Lavrenteva

CONTENT

- Where is Ireland located :
- What languages are spoken in Ireland?
- What Ireland is famous for?
- How do Irish people communicate?
- What untranslatable words Irish language has?

WHERE IS IRELAND LOCATED?

The Republic of Ireland is located between the United Kingdom and the Atlantic Ocean.

The country occupies a large majority of the island of Ireland, with Northern Ireland (part of the United Kingdom) covering

WHAT LANGUAGES ARE SPOKEN IN IRELAND?

- The two principal languages of Ireland are English and Irish, which is known as Gaerlic. It is a Goidelic language of the Celtic languages family.
- There are no words for «yes» or «no» in Irish. You just use a verb form. The phrase «did they sell the house?» would be «did they sell».
- Sentences are in «verb-subject» order. So «I speak» is «I speak».

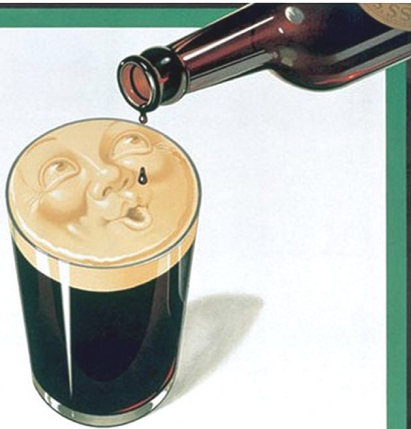

WHAT IRELAND IS FAMOUS FOR

- Alcohol
- Music
- Literature
- Dance

There's nothing like a GUINNESS

GUINNESS

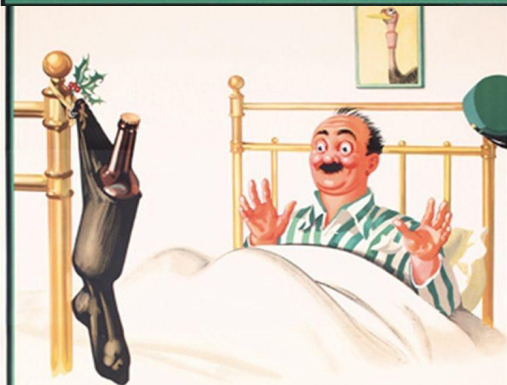

is good for you

Have a GUINNESS when you're TIRED

GUINNESS FOR STRENGTH

My Goodness My Christmas GUINNESS

Lovely day for a GUINNESS

My Goodness My GUINNESS

GUINNESS AS USUAL

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE A GUINNESS

10 ICONIC INSTRUMENTS USED IN TRADITIONAL IRISH MUSIC

celtic harp

uilleann pipe

tin whistle

fiddle

bodhran

irish bouzouki

accordion

guitar

STEP DANCE

Proper upper body, arm, and foot placement.

Dance step twice, with right foot leading the one left.

Arms remain held out to sides.

Dance in limited amount of space.

GREAT IRISH WRITERS

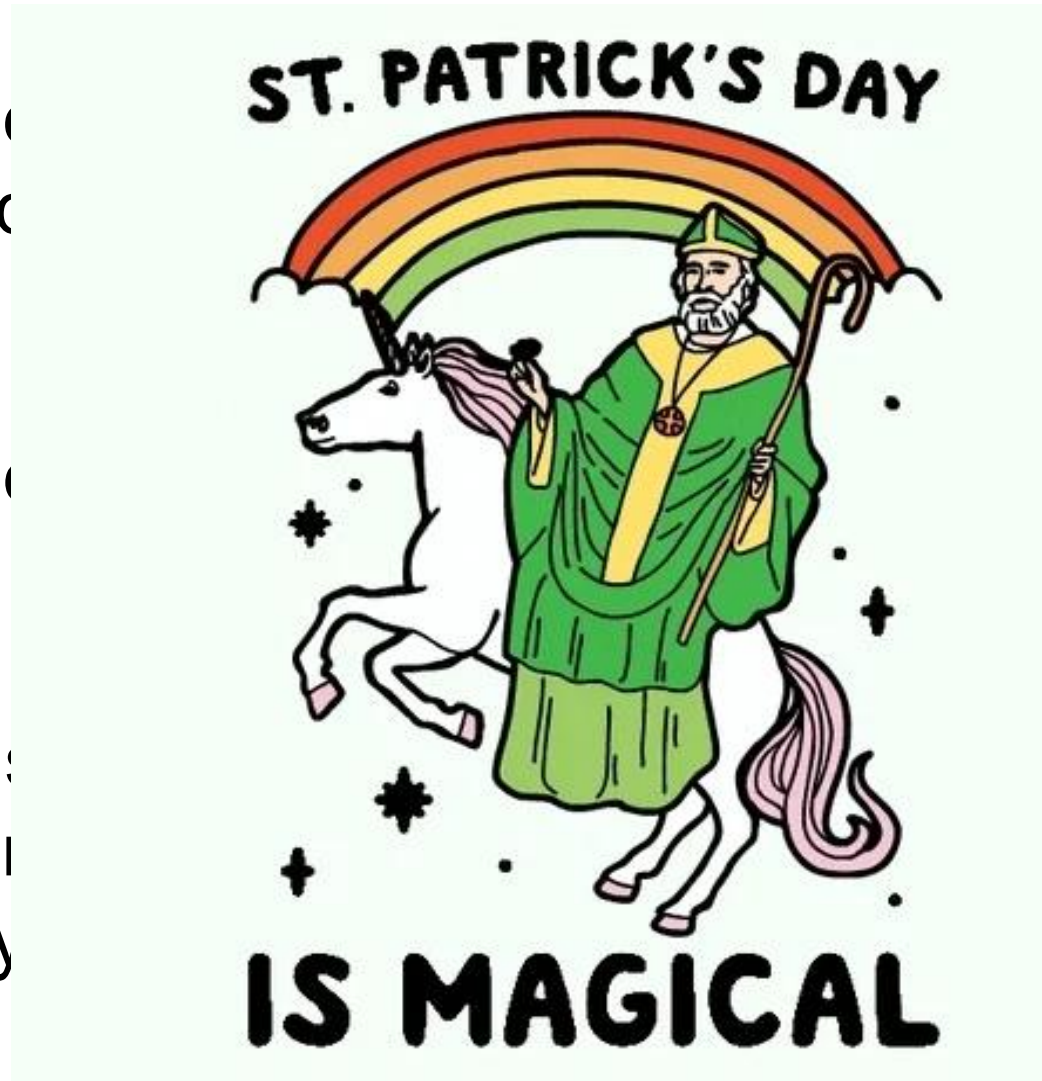

Oscar Wilde

James Joyce

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

- St. Patrick is one of the patron saints of Ireland. According to popular legend, St. Patrick rid Ireland of snakes. He is celebrated on March 17.
- The most common St. Patrick's Day symbol is shamrock. The shamrock is a symbol of the Holy Trinity.

YOU CAN'T GET A HANGOVER

IF YOU'RE DRUNK 24/7

celebrations generally involve public parades and festivals
the wearing of green tunes or shamrocks.

drinking, dancing and music part of the festivities in the many restaurants and pubs for corned beef and cabbage, Guinness pie, soda bread, Irish coffee, chocolate

cheesecake, potato champ,

etc.

HOW DO IRISH PEOPLE COMMUNICATE?

- The most common greeting is the handshake.
- They usually say «What's the craic?» (news, gossip) instead of saying «How are you?».
- Most Irish enjoy witty humour, as well as sarcasm and banter (insults and teasing).
- Public displays of affection are common.

ADUANTAS

The word aduantas describes that feeling of unease or anxiety caused by being somewhere new, or by being surrounded by people you don't know.

A photograph of a colorful terraced street in Plobaireach, Scotland. The houses are painted in various colors like blue, green, and red. In the foreground, there is a white decorative fence with stone pillars and a grassy area. The sky is overcast.

PLOBAIREACH

I

When you're crying and trying to speak
at the same time,
but can't make
yourself clear, that's

RAGAIRE

Ragaireacht is an Irish word for late-night wandering, or for sitting up talking long into the early hours.

And a ragaire is someone who enjoys precisely

that