People and atmosphere in major cities and provinces the Atmosphere and people in major Philippine cities and provinces are very different. In a large city you can be molested, begging for a tip just for showing the way, on the streets you can be bothered by small traders, there are many beggars and thieves. In a large Philippine city, a person with a European appearance should be very careful. In the provincial small towns this is almost there, people are very friendly and welcoming, usually no one to you does not stick and does not beg.*

Philippines in Asia is considered a special country. Indeed, there are even dishes are not as spicy as in other Asian countries. In addition, the Philippines was greatly influenced by European colonists. Therefore, the Philippines, which consists of many Islands, can be considered an amazing Asian country with beautiful nature, waterfalls, ancient attractions and white beaches.
