SCANNER AND PRINTER

Scanner - is an input device that is analyzing an object (usually an image, text) to create a digital copy of the image of the object.

Printer - is an external computer peripheral device designed to display text or graphics information stored in the computer hard physical medium, usually paper

matrix printer consists of:

- · The ribbon cartridge,
- · System of the print head,

- · Supply system and drawing paper,
- · A microprocessor control system,
- Mechanical and optical sensors,
- Secondary power source.

The scanner comprises:
light beam photodetector engine

