The Three R's of the Environment

Reduce - Minimize the amount of waste you produce is the best way to help the environment.

How can we Reduce?

- Turn off lights that you are not using
- Turn off the tap while you brush your teeth
- Use public transportation
- Buy products that don't have a lot of packaging
- Instead of buying something, see if you can borrow

The Three R's of the Environment

Reuse - Instead of throwing things away, try to find ways to use them again

How can we Reuse?

- Take your lunch to school using reusable plastic containers
- Donate old clothes, toys, furniture, and other things
- Use all writing paper on both side
- Use silverware and dishes instead of disposable plastic utensils and plates
- Bring bags from home when you go to the store

The Three R's of the Environment

Recycle - Many of the things we use every day, like paper bags, soda cans, and milk cartons, are made out of materials that can be recycled:

200.000 trees have to be cut down to produce the daily newspapers

2000 X

Paper

If we recycled all newspapers, we could save over 250 million trees each and every year

2 500 000 X

Paper

Recycled paper produces approximately 70% less air pollution

Glass

How long does it take for glass to decompose?

A modern glass bottle could take over 4000 years to actually decompose

Glass

Glass is 100% recyclable and can be used again and again.

In the factory, glass is separated into colors because glass retains its color even after recycling.

What can you do?

Reduce, Reuse

Recycle: separate aluminum, plastic, paper and glass
