

Russian Government

By Nepomnyashchih Nadezhda

Gr. 12161

The Government of the Russian Federation exercises executive power in the Russian Federation. The members of the government are the Prime Minister, 9 deputy prime ministers, and 22 federal ministers.

The Prime Minister must submit to the President nominations for all subordinate Government positions, including deputy prime ministers and federal ministers. Prime Minister carries out administration in line with the constitution and laws and presidential decrees.

Конституция Российской Федерации

The Government is the subject of the 6th chapter of the Constitution of the Russian Federation.

According to the Constitution, the Government of the Russian Federation must:

1. Draft and submit the federal budget to the State Duma; ensure the implementation of the budget and report on its implementation to the State Duma.
2. Ensure the implementation of a uniform financial, credit and monetary policy in the Russian Federation.
3. Ensure the implementation of a uniform state policy in the areas of culture, science, education, health protection, social security and ecology.

4. Manage federal property.
5. Adopt measures to ensure the country's defence, state security, and the implementation of the foreign policy of the Russian Federation.
6. Implement measures to ensure the rule of law, human rights and freedoms, the protection of property and public order, and crime control.
7. Exercise any other powers vested in it by the Constitution of the Russian Federation, federal laws and presidential decrees.

The government issues its acts in the way of decisions and orders. These must not contradict the constitution, federal constitutional laws, federal laws, and Presidential decrees, are the signet by the Prime Minister.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION.