Prizes and awards at UTS

- Each faculty at UTS offers prizes to recognise the accomplishments of high performing students. These prizes are made available through the generosity of private individuals and public organisations.
- Prizes may be offered each semester, annually or biennially and may take the form of cash payments, medals, books, vouchers or other items.
- Most prizes will be awarded only when a student has attained a mark or level of achievement which is considered to be sufficiently high by the relevant faculty board.

Entry requirements

□ Undergraduate

- Note: in addition to these academic requirements, some courses may have specific admission requirements. Check the admission requirements information on the course details page of your chosen course/s.
- For entry into undergraduate coursework at UTS you require a competitive pass in a recognised matriculation examination, equivalent to an Australian Year 12 qualification. As a general guide, competitive results for international examinations that are accepted for entry can be viewed at the International entry scores section.
- Applications for some courses also require submission of a portfolio or a personal statement.
- Those who successfully complete a recognised pathway program are also eligible to apply. If you do not meet entry requirements, you may wish to consider studying a UTS pathway course through UTS: INSEARCH(opens an external site).

Activities and events

- The Residential Life program provides students with daily activities ranging from social/lifestyle activities to academic groups and sporting activities. Activities are initiated by the students, for the students and aim to promote a great community atmosphere. Almost every activity run by the team is free of charge and students are encouraged to participate in as many activities as they want.
- The program also offers a fantastic in-house academic support network, which can include study groups and mentors, faculty events, English conversation classes and workshops. UTS Housing usually has two calendars: one for social activities and the other for learning and academic activities.
