The first building of the Globe Theater was built on the southern bank of the Thames in 1599.

THE THEATER WAS REBUILT IN 1614

FIGHT FOR A DREAM

In the second half of the twentieth century, American actor Sam Wanamaker created a special fund for the restoration of the theater. More than 40 million pounds and about 10 years, and the theater opened doors again in 1997.

THE MODERN "GLOBE"

DURING THE PERFORMANCE

In the theater "Globe" there are no spotlights and artificial lighting, so all the performances are given in the light of the day, as in the old days. Do not use speakers, amplifiers and microphones.

Today a lot of the people visit
London and come to the Globe
Theatre to see Shakespeare's plays.

CONCLUSION

❖ Shakespeare's Globe Theater is one of the oldest theaters in England. Fame for the theater, first of all, brought the first productions on the stage of Shakespeare's works. The building was rebuilt for various reasons three times, which is the rich history of Shakespeare's theater. Now, after getting acquainted with the history of this theater, I absolutely wanted to see it personally and to feel this atmosphere of the Shakespearean era on my own.
