

Rostov-on-Don

- The city of Rostov-on-Don is located in the south of Russia, is the administrative center of the Rostov region and the Southern Federal District. It is located on the right bank of the Don River, 46 km from its confluence into the Azov Sea, 1226 km southeast of Moscow. The population is 1,049 million people, the area is 354 square meters. km. In 2008, the city of Rostov-on-Don was awarded the honorary title of the city of military glory.

Monument to the soldiers of the First Cavalry

- The work of the sculptor Vuchetich, intended for Mamayev Kurgan in Volgograd, was donated to Rostov-on-Don and installed in 1972 in the park on the site of the former Alexander Nevsky Cathedral. The inscription with the dedication of the monument to the events of 1920 was shot down in 1996 as too biased.

Theater them. Gorky

- The building of the theater was built in 1935 - in the form of a giant tractor. It was restored in 1963. In 1981 the theater received the title of Academic.

Rostov Astronautics Museum

- The most interesting object of the museum is the restored descent spacecraft of the 15th expedition of the ISS - Soyuz TMA-10, in which it is possible to simulate docking, docking, etc. In addition, the exposition presents parts of the Soyuz spacecraft, spacesuits, space food, etc., near-space equipment and devices.

Don River embankment

- The city embankment is about 2 km long, one of the most visited places in the city. She became famous for the fact that during the year there are many festivals and festivals, as well as popular festivities.

Bolshaya Sadovaya street

- One of the oldest and most beautiful streets of Rostov-on-Don, within which there are many city attractions and administrative institutions. Its length is about 3.8 km. Once in this place there was a suburb and gardens blossomed, so the alley got its name. The street is of great transport importance - along it there are the main routes connecting the center with other areas.

Paramonovsky warehouses

- The warehouse complex is located near the Rostov port and at the moment is a dilapidated building, which, nevertheless, is considered a monument of industrial architecture of the middle of the XIX century. They belonged to the merchant Elpidifor Paramonov. In Soviet times this object was not used for its intended purpose and gradually fell into decay until it reached the state of ruins.

Fountain on Theater Square

- The fountain was installed in the park next to the theater named after M. Gorky in the 1930s. The author of the project was the promising graduate of the local art school - E. Vootecic. The composition consists of figures of giants on a pedestal, surrounded by turtles and frogs. During the Second World War the fountain was completely destroyed, but already in the 1950s it was restored, guided by the preserved photographs.

Presentation was made by a student of the Gk-314
group
Nadornova

