I don't think it's a good idea to talk now. She looks like she is feeling

Angry

What a face. I think he needs to find something to do. He looks

Bored

Maybe I should explain things more clearly because she looks

Confused

That group of boys are being horrible and they are making the boy sit down feel

Embarrassed

I think all her Christmas's have come at once. She looks

Excited

Something isn't going right for someone.
She is getting ...

Frustrated

I wonder what his mum will say? I wonder if he's feeling

Guilty

Wow this looks fun. Both the boys look

.....

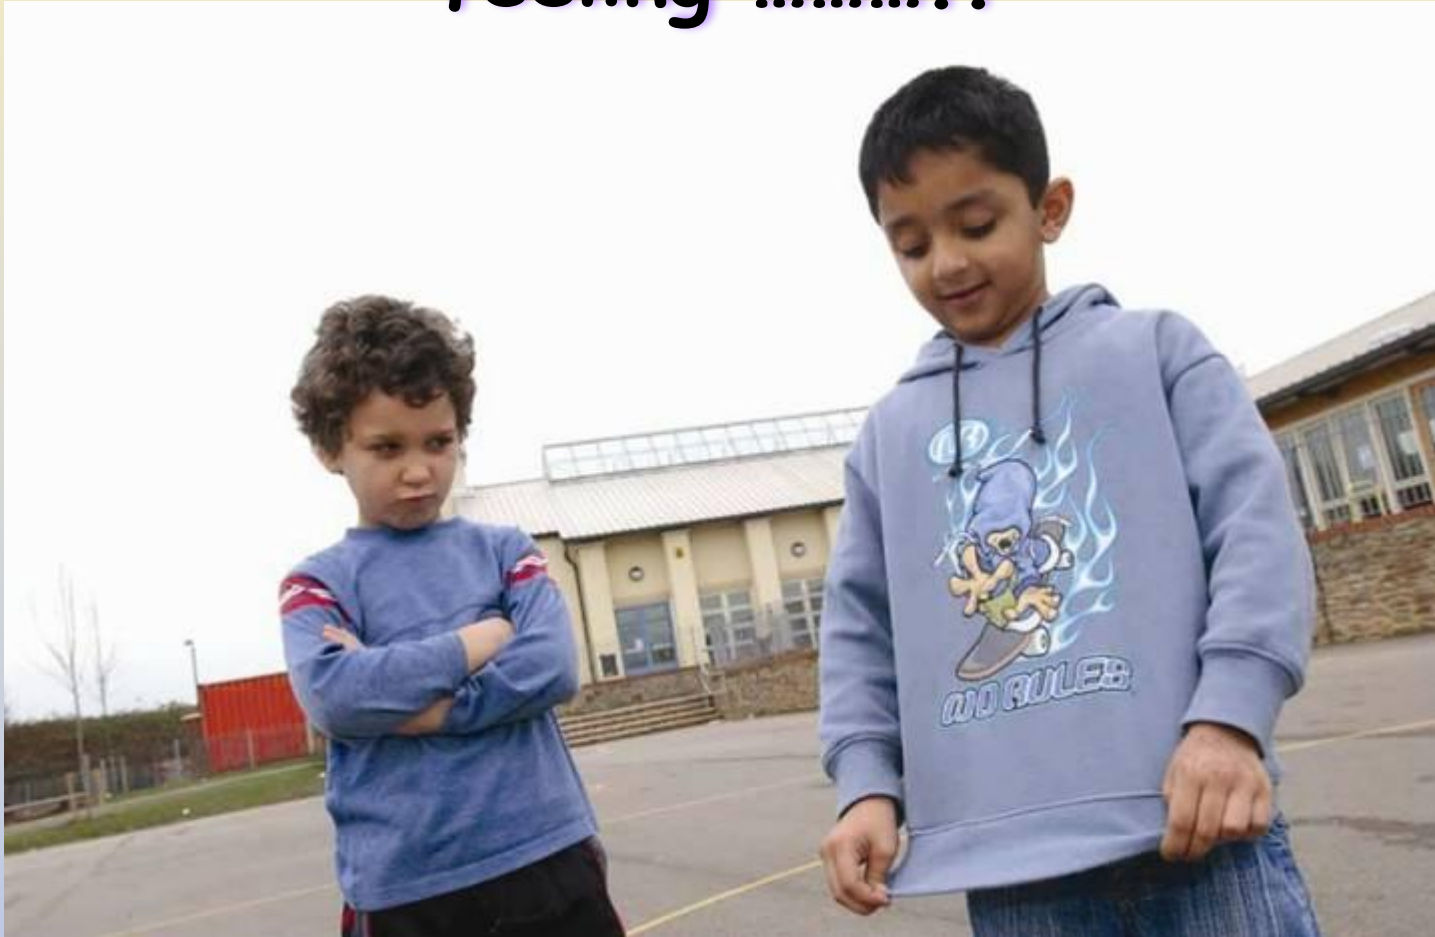

Happy

I think he wants to be picked. He is looking

Hopeful

I think that the boy on the left wishes he had that top. He looks like he is feeling

Jealous

The other girls won't let her join in.
She is feeling

Left out

Look at this bundle of loveliness. This baby is feeling

Loved

The teacher is showing everyone his work. I bet he feels

Proud

Oh dear I wonder what has happened.
They both look

Sad

I think they've been watching horror films. They both look

Scared

Did something just happen that he wasn't expecting. He looks

Surprised

I think he has the weight on his shoulders. He looks

Worried

Not a care in the world, curled up with a good book. She looks

Relaxed

Together, look through the slide show and tell me about one occasion that you have felt one of these emotions
