Homework essay “Animals are in danger”

The problem of disappearing animals is very important nowadays. We have a lot of rare animals on the planet. Some of them are tigers, elephants, crocodiles, whales and so on.

On the one hand, it goes without saying that all these animals must be protected. But hunters don't understand it, and they kill animals for their beautiful skin, beautiful teeth, for food and only for fun. On the other hand, people need a lot of place to live on, roads to go on, wood to build houses. It causes animals to leave their habitats. They die then.

As for me, I think that people are responsible for animals and we must protect rare and endangered species of animals.

To sum up, it's to everybody to decide whether to save animals or not. Anyway, I hope that soon we'll have a good, full of animals, planet!
