CRANE
PAINTING

“The Scream” is the popular name given to a composition created by Norwegian Expressionist artist Edvard Munch.

The agonised face in the painting has become one of the most iconic images of art, seen as symbolising the anxiety of human.

The style is expressionism. It reflects not the reality itself, but emotional state of the author.

“Campbell’s Soup Cans” expresses positive view of modern culture. Style: Abstract expressionism.

Pop art is an art movement that appeared in the United Kingdom and the United States during the mid- to late-1950s. The movement presented a challenge to traditions of fine art by including images from popular and mass culture, such as advertising, comic books and mass-produced objects. One of its aims is to use images of popular culture in art, most often through the use of irony.

Pablo Picasso

Cubism is an early-20th-century art movement that revolutionized European painting. In Cubist artwork, objects are broken up and reassembled in an abstracted form. It is considered the most influential art movement of the 20th century.

Vasnetsov, Alenushka. Style: History painting.

It depicts solitude (одинокчество) and Russian sadness (русская печаль).

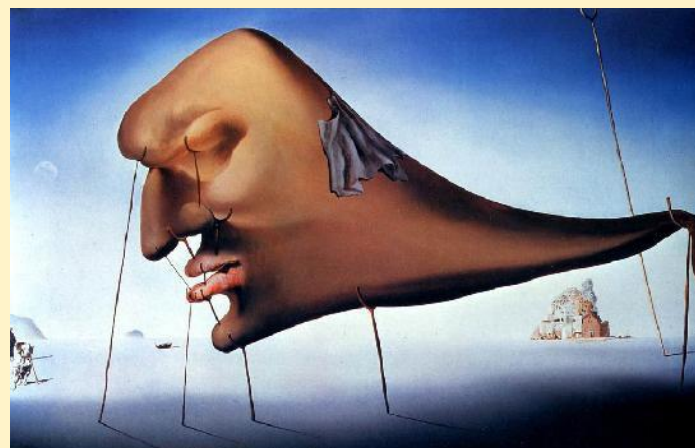

Vincent van Gogh. Impressionism is a 19th-century art movement characterized by relatively small, thin, yet visible brush strokes.

Salvador Dalí, Surrealism. Surrealism was a cultural movement which developed in Europe after World War I.

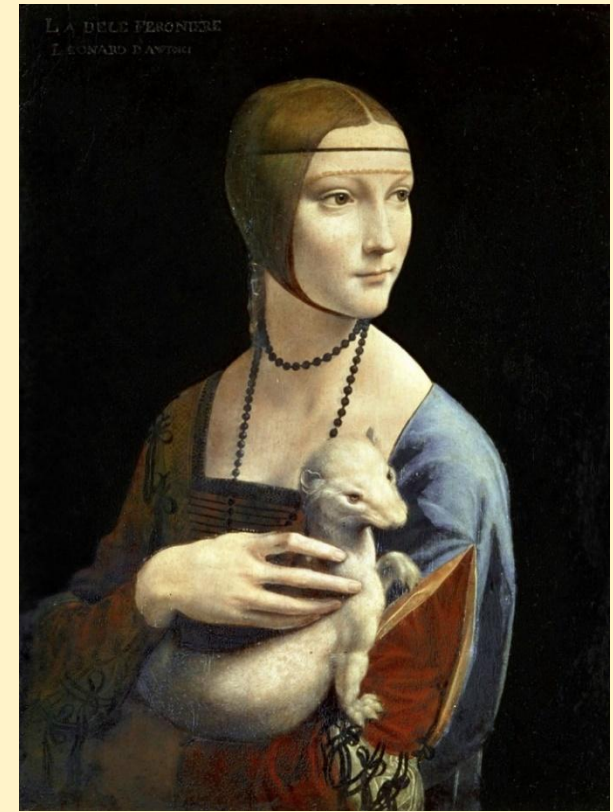

It activates the unconscious mind (бессознательное) through the imagery (образность). Artists painted unnerving (пугающие), illogical scenes, creating strange creatures from everyday objects, and developing painting techniques that allowed the unconscious to express itself (которые позволяют выразить бессознательное). Its aim is to "resolve the previously contradictory conditions (раннее противоречащие условия) of dream and reality into an absolute reality, a super-reality", or surrealism.

Vasili Pukirev, The Unequal Marriage. The Style: Realism.

The scene looks like a very dramatic moment in a play; the light in the church is falling on the three main figures in the painting; the bride, illuminating (подчеркивая) her beautiful and sad figure of the bride, the wrinkled (с морщинами) and old groom, and the priest.

"Lady with an Ermine" ['з:mIn]

The ermine was a traditional symbol of purity (ЧИСТОТЫ) and moderation (УМЕРЕННОСТИ) as it was believed it would face death rather than soil its white coat (по поверьям горноста́й скорее умрет, чем запачкает свою белую шкурку).

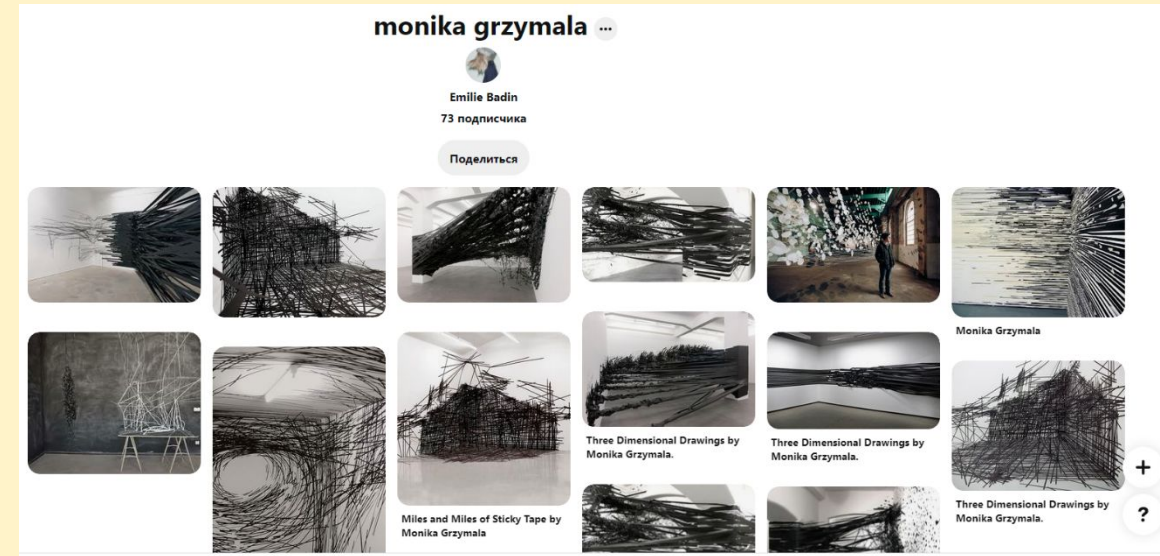

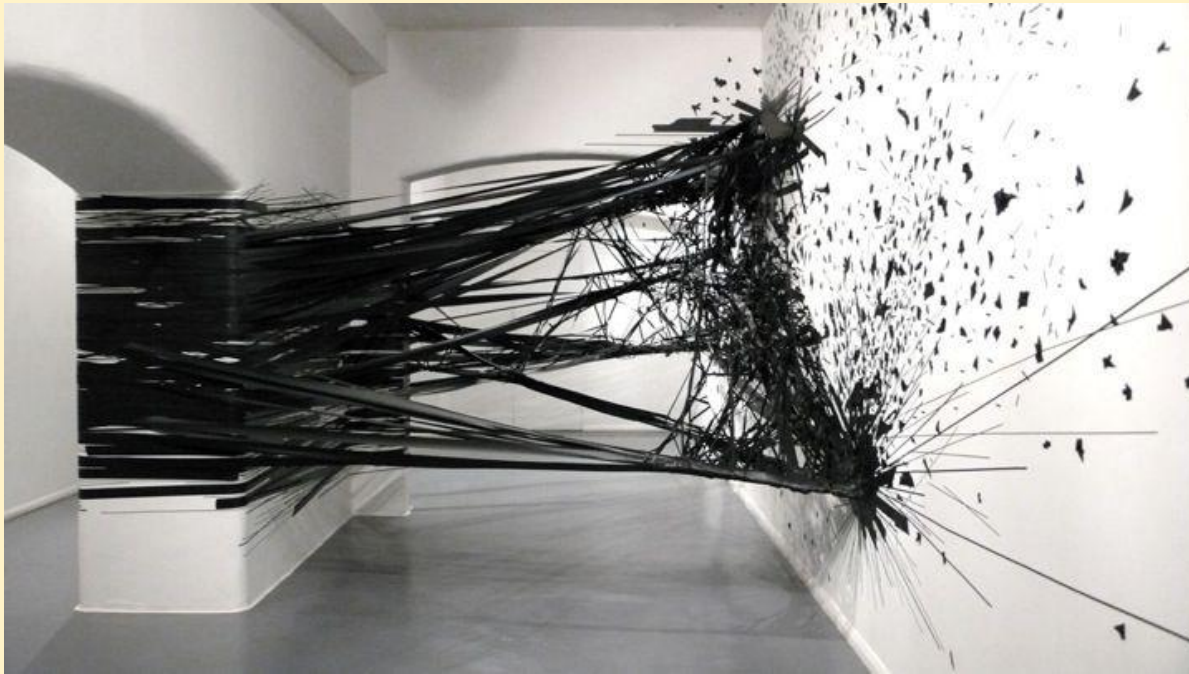

Da Vinci (də 'vIntʃɪ). Style: Renaissance.
