You are very closer to be an Oxymer!!!

THE SOCIAL MEDIA ANALYST POSITION

HOW TO BE AN OXYMER?

To become an Oxyme, you need to watch our training video. Once you are hired, you can submit the hours spent on this training as worked hours as well.

Oxyme works with a special online application to analyze the results that will be used in the report we send to the client. Below I shared with you a recording of a training given recently by my colleague Jan Jaap. In this recording he explains how we work and what are the basic rating rules.

Please watch the training and answer this test-questionnaire. This questionnaire will show us whether you understood how we work and if you are prepared to start on the project or not. In case you receive a positive feedback on the questionnaire, we will continue with the recruitment procedure involving contracts and credentials.
