

The future of the world

Cash will disappear from circulation

Clean water will be more expensive than oil

People will try to master space

Retirement age will increase

People's lifespan will increase

There will be no corners of the planet untouched by man

The state will be governed by businessmen, not governors

