

TV is one of the most important inventions of the twentieth century.

Inventor - John Logie Baird

The first demonstration of television was held in London in 1926.

In most western countries,
a lot of homes have a TV,
and television is impotent
in our lives.

Now there are more than 750 million television in the world

