

SPIN THE BOTTLE

If he had studied (study) enough,
he could have passed the test.

If I were (be) you, I would never talk to him again.

2

She would have been in Paris now,
if there had been (be) no delay.

If I see him today, I will tell (tell) him to bring my books back.

What would you do,
if you saw (see) a snake in your bed?

If he hadn't broken (not / break) his right leg, 6
he could have played football this evening.

If water is heated up to 100 centigrade,
it boils (boil).

If my mom saw us together,
she would kill (kill) you with a shotgun.

She may forgive you,
if you go (go) and talk (talk) to her.

If he hadn't smoked too much,
he would be (be) alive now.

If you do (do) it again,
I'll have to call the police!

Where would you like to live,

12

If you had (have) the chance to choose?

If I were (be) you, I would fly to Paris now.

If they hadn't drunk (not / drink) so much, they wouldn't have had that terrible accident.

If she hadn't fallen off the bike,
she wouldn't have met (not / meet)
her future husband.

If you put some water into a freezer, 16
it freezes (freeze).

They'll buy me a pair of sneakers,
if they           go           (go) shopping today.

If you had put some sun cream on,
your shoulders wouldn't be (not / be) so sun burnt now.

