The impossible title for Lester City

Championship of the season 2015/2016

Before the start of the season, football experts agreed that the main task of the team would be to preserve a place in the Premier League, some predicted the team's departure from the Premier League.

Bookmakers before the start of the championship took bets on the championship of Leicester with a coefficient of 5000, that is mathematically the probability of the championship was estimated as negligible.

However, under the leadership of Ranieri the team changed and started a serious fight for the championship.

May 2, 2016, after a draw (2-2) in the match, "Chelsea" - "Tottenham", "Leicester City" for the first time in his history became the champion of England. This is the first team championship in 38 years, which has never won the main tournament of England.
