Nature is all around us. It is the song of birds, the blooming of flowers, the wind that blow, the sky, etc. These things are an integral part of our lives. On the one hand we cherish these natural blessings, on the other hand we don't appreciate fully their importance. Thus, our future generations can be cut from these treasures. We live in Ukraine. It is the country that has got a lot of beautiful Ukraine has 11 National Parks, 16 National Nature Preserves, 4 Biosphere Preserves, and a lot of smaller areas all aimed at preserving its natural splendors. Some of the most popular parks are Askania-Nova (Kherson oblast), Shatskiy National Preserve Area (Volyn oblast), Sofiyivsky Park (Cherkasy oblast).

In the UK, the designation "national park" means that there are some restrictions to protect the territory. One of the national parks in the UK is the Peak District. Peak District is a sublime area in central and northern England. Most of the area belongs to the Peak District National Park, established in 1951, and became the first national park in the British Isles. The park is visited by about 22 million people a year. Peak District National Park is considered the second largest in the world in terms of frequencies of attendance. The southern spurs of the Pennin Mountains occupy the place, so its relief is represented, mainly, uplifted - about 300 m (1,000 ft.) Above sea level. The territory of the national park is 1 437 km². as of 2010, the Peak District is the fifth largest national park in England. Territory is cut by valley rivers, where a large number of reservoirs are built.
