

Archangelsk University

Archangelsk University

The Northern State Medical University is a Russian higher educational institution. Founded in 1932 for the training of health personnel in the European North of Russia.

Coat of Arkhangelsk University

History

- In 1935, the Institute established the Department of Physical Education and Medical Rehabilitation.
 - In 1994 the Arkhangelsk Institute was reorganized into the Arkhangelsk State Medical Academy.
 - In 2000 he became the Northern State Medical University.
-

Training program

Arkhangelsk Medical University is a versatile university that implements educational programs of various levels. Educational activity is conducted on:

- 5 specialties of secondary education and 18 specialties of higher education;
- postgraduate education programs;
- programs of additional vocational education.

Faculties

It includes 11 faculties.

Students can be trained in:

- Dental Faculty;
- Pediatric faculty;
- Pharmaceutical Faculty;
- Faculty of nursing education;
- Faculty of clinical psychology and others.

Prestige

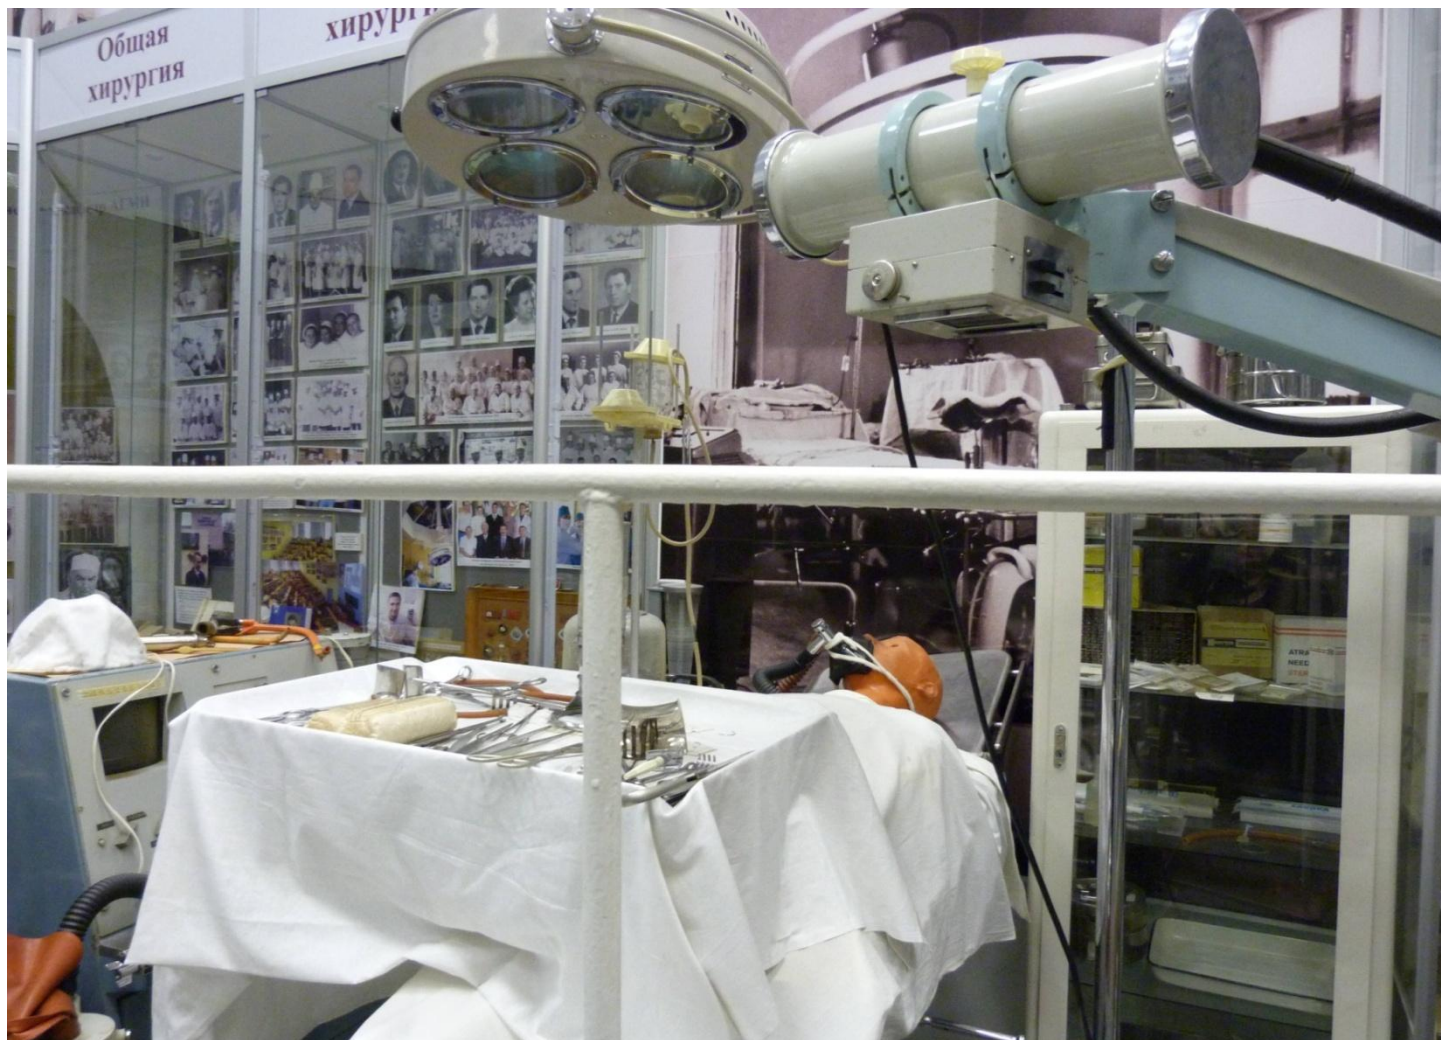

SGMU is considered to be a prestigious university in the north-western region. The students of the Arkhangelsk Medical University are not only representatives of Russia, but also many students from India, North Africa and other countries.

Dental Laboratory

Surgey office

Pediatric Faculty

Thank you for attention

