

Canada.

The second largest country in the world.

Niagara Falls.

- A complex of waterfalls on the Niagara River, which separates the US state of New York from Canadian province of Ontario. Ground levels between the top of waterfall and it's bottom is not very not significant, but the waterfall is very wide, and the volume of water passing through that waterfull makes the Niagara waterfall the most powerful in North America.

Niagara at night.

At Niagara there are dozens of multi-colored spotlights which has a total capacity of 1.5 mln KWh . As soon as it gets dark , their beams are directed to a continuously falling water of waterfall.

Canada's Wonderland.

- A huge theme park «Wonderland» is situated on 121 hectares, 30 km from downtown Toronto. This amusement park is a fantastic country with mountains, valleys, caves and rivers.

Canadian Rockies.

- Canadian Rockies stretched from north to south for 1,400 km. The Canadian Rockies are five very beautiful national parks included in the UNESCO World Heritage List: Jasper, Banff, Yoho, Waterton Lakes and Kootenay.

Jasper park.

There are more than 200 species of birds who lives in the park. There arw also deers, elks , grizzly bears , wolverines , tree porcupines and many other animals , and the park itself is almost entirely composed of beautiful pine forests.

Banff park.

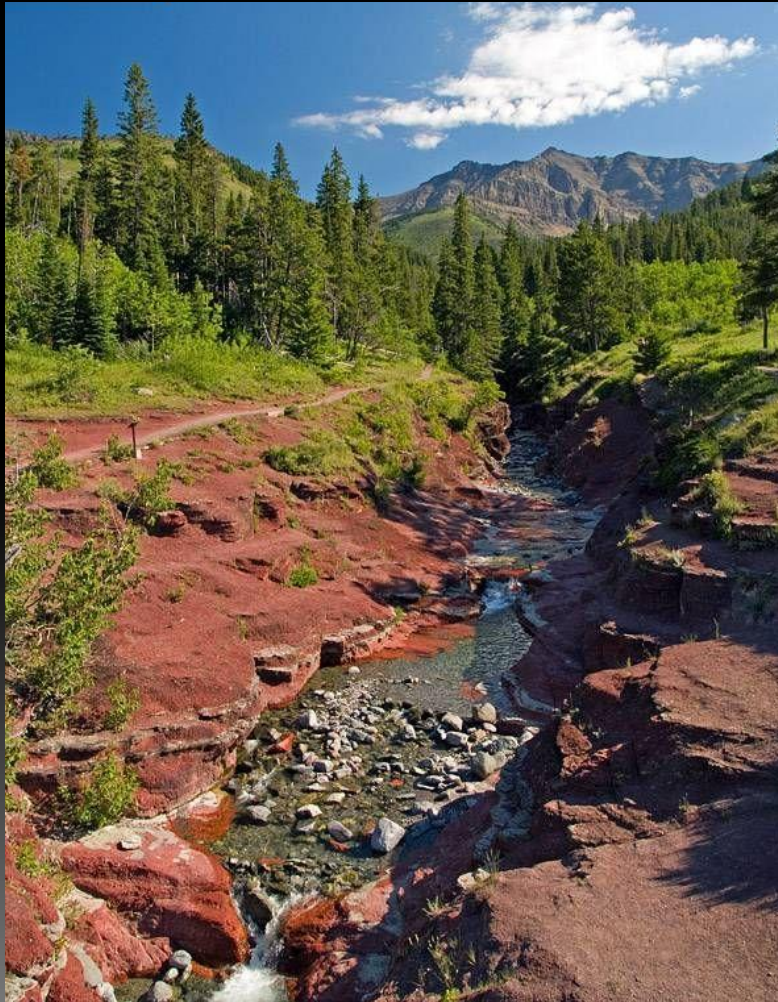

Canada's oldest national park, established in 1885 in the Canadian Mountains. With multitude of glaciers and ice fields, dense pine forests and alpine landscapes.

Yoho park.

The park is located in a mountainous region with a large difference in a ground level, from the glaciers on the top of the mountains to the numerous lakes in the valleys, waterfalls and canyons and limestone caves.

Waterton Lakes.

The park presents the stone rocks of various colors: red, green, gray and brown, and black. Black stones had volcanic origin.

Kootenay park.

In the park there are hot and cold springs. The park includes: ice and rocks, meadows and forests, mountain valleys. Mountain goats that live on the slopes of Mount Vardl, are a symbol of the park and they are protected by special protection of the park.
