Berezinsky Biosphere Reserve

Места обитания животных:

Условные обозначения:

The reserve is located in the north of the republic in the Belarusian Lake district.

It was founded back in 1925 to protect and reproduce the river beaver, which was almost exterminated by that time.

Since 1979 it has been included in the UNESCO list of protected biosphere reserves.

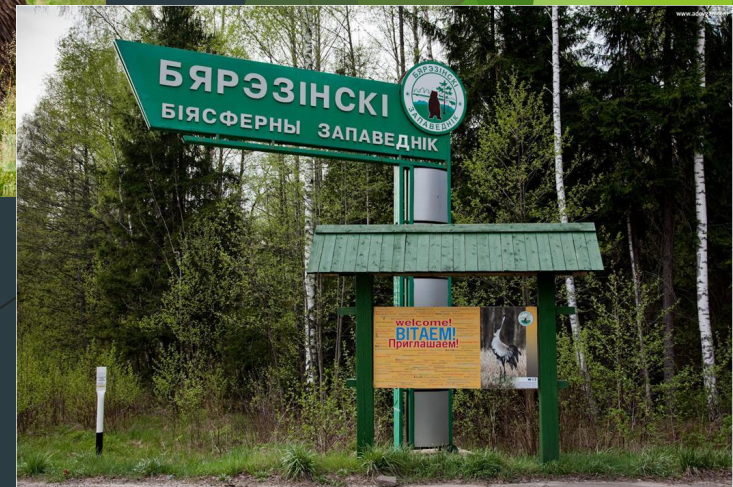

It was founded to protect and reproduce the river beaver, which was almost exterminated by that time.

You can rest in the reserve for at least a whole month. All kinds of recreation routes are well thought out here: pedestrian, automobile, water - for every taste. If necessary, you can order a guide or translator.

Narochansky National Park

- ▶ Narochansky National Park is located near Minsk.
- ▶ There are three groups of lakes in the Naroch National Park: Bolduk, Naroch and Myadel.
- ▶ The central one is the Naroch Lake – the largest lake in Belarus (its area is 80 square km).

There are the biggest in Belarus resort and wellness area – the main health center of the country. You can enjoy water rides, sailing on a boat or a catamaran. Hiking is also popular.

Pripyatsky National Park is another pearl of ecotourism in Belarus

- The administrative center of the park is located in one of the oldest cities in Belarus – Turov.
- One of the main values of the Pripyatsky National Park is its floodplain landscapes, where you can see the alternation of vast open meadows and arrays of shrubs, swampy lowlands and areas of sparse woodlands, single mighty oaks and ancient lakes.

The diversity of flora and fauna on the territory of «Pripyatsky» is surprising. Here you can find 1744 species of plants and 356 species of animals. Some of them are included in the Red Book of the Republic of Belarus.

Braslav Lakes National Park

One of the most beautiful and unique places in Belarus is the Braslav Lakes National Park. It is 250 kilometers away from Minsk.

The total area of the national park is 71500 hectares. About 17% is lakes and forests are 46%.

You can find a number of interesting monuments of nature, history, and culture in the national park. They are:

- glacial landforms,
- islands in the lakes,
- large boulders,
- ancient settlements,
- burial grounds and religious buildings.

The Polesie State Radioecological Reserve

It was established on July 18, 1988

The reserve hosts many rare and endangered species, which thrive there thanks to the virtual absence of humans.

They include:

European bison

Przewalski horse

Moose

Brown bear

Golden eagle

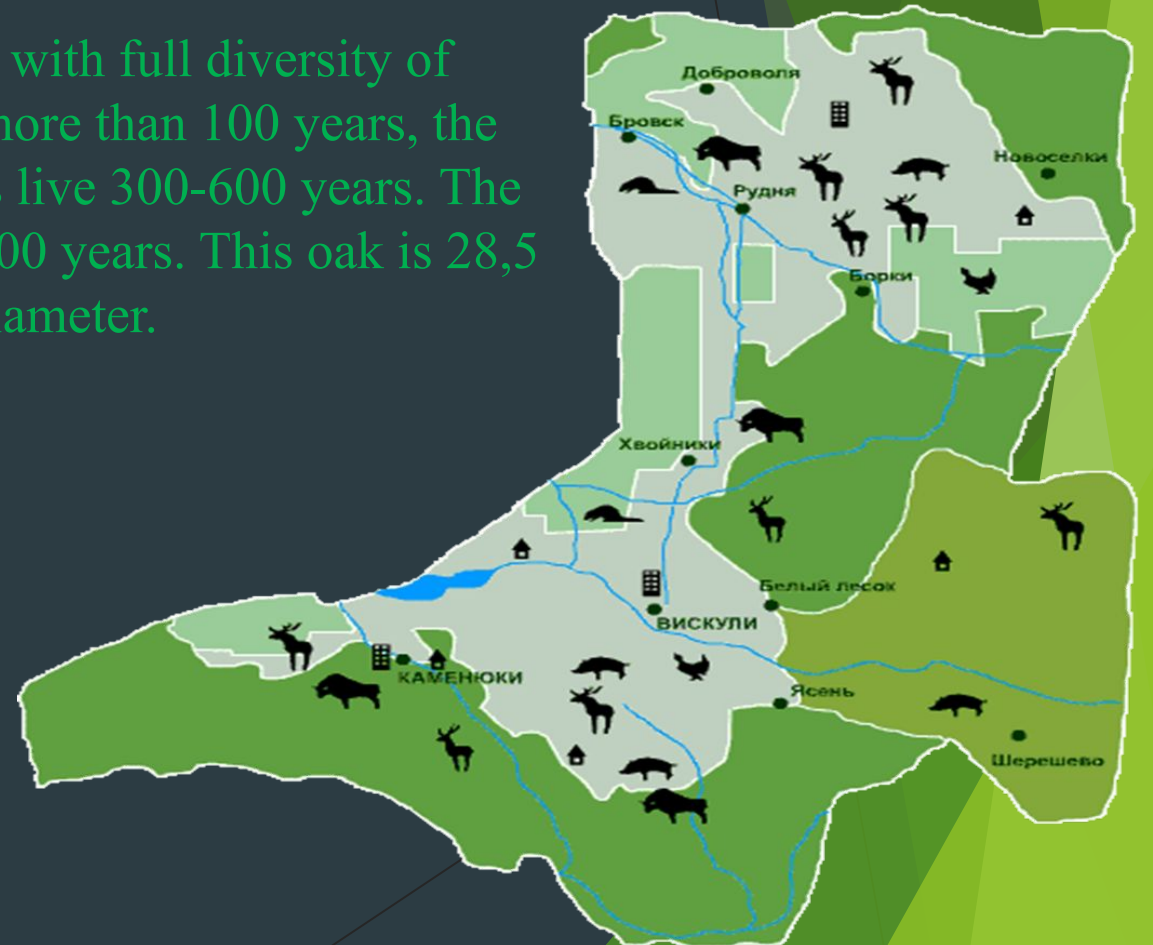

White-tailed eagle

Although the reserve was established for the purpose of radiobiological and environmental research, it is of interest to other biologists. Due to the minimal human presence, it is possible to observe the natural development of wildlife in the conditions of Belarus.

Belovezhskaya Pushcha is the national symbol, the visit card of our Republic and the pride of Belarusian people Belovezhskaya Pushcha is the unique nature object with full diversity of Belarusian forests. The average age of the forests is more than 100 years, the maximum — 200-300 years, and individual giant trees live 300-600 years. The good example is the Patriarch oak which age is about 600 years. This oak is 28,5 high and has more than 2 metres in diameter.

of Belovezhskaya Pushcha includes more than 10 thousand species. Of most interest is the bison which is entered into the International Red Data Book. Bison is the live monument of the European fauna, national pride of Belarus and a special symbol of the National Park Belovezhskaya Pushcha. Nowadays around 300 bisons live in Belovezhskaya Pushcha.

Belovezhskaya Pushcha is not only the centre of scientific research, it is also the large tourist centre of the Republic.

Well, as you can see, the choice of nature reserves and parks in Belarus is really great.
