DE MENEZES INQUEST OPENS

SCOTLAND YARD IN THE DOCK

DEVAN HURLEY @thelondonpaper.com

SCOTLAND YARD went "on trial" today over the police shooting of innocent Brazilian Jean Charles de Menezes. The long-awaited inquest began at the Oval cricket ground - less than a mile from Stockwell Tube station, where the 27-year-old electrician was gunned down by armed police more than three years ago. The inquest is not a criminal trial and is intended simply to piece together what happened on that day. But Met Commissioner Sir Ian Blair admitted the inquiry is the "most testing" the force has faced since the Macpherson Report into the Stephen Lawrence murder. In a leaked memo to staff, Blair warned them to prepare "for criticism". If the jury reaches verdict of unlawful killing, it will increase the pressure on him to resign. De Menezes was mistaken for a suicide bomber and shot seven times as he boarded a Northern line train on 22 July 2005 - the day after four terrorists attempted to blow themselves up on London's public transport system. More than 75 witnesses, most of whom are police officers and will give evidence

INNOCENT | Jean Charles de Menezes was shot dead anonymously, will be called during the inquest. Blair is not listed, even though the family are keen to quiz him. Scotland Yard fear the 12-week hearing will descend into a war of words between the armed police who shot de Menezes and the surveillance teams who followed him from his Tube Hill home on the day of the shooting. The inquest, chaired by coroner Sir Michael Wright, will also hear from 17 Tube passengers who witnessed the killing and will give evidence for the first time. Relatives of de Menezes will be able to quiz the two "shooters" - known as Charlie 2 and Charlie 12 - for the first time. Today several members of the Justice 4 Jean group
