The history of Los Angeles begins about 10-20 thousand years ago, long before the appearance on the mainland of the first Europeans: all this time there were concentrated several villages of Indians who were engaged in hunting and gathering. The permanent settlement was founded on September 4, 1781 and was named El Pueblo de Nuestra Señora de los Angeles di Porciuncula. For several decades it was just a small town, but in 1820 its population exceeded 600 people, and after thirty years received the official status of the city. Since then, the city is developing rapidly and today it is a huge metropolis with a multi-million population and developed infrastructure.

POPULATION

According to the statistical report for 2006-2008, there were 3,749,058 inhabitants, 1,275,534 households and 778,991 households (as of July 1, 2009, 3,831,868 residents). The density of the population, thus, was 2904.9 people per km². The racial makeup of the city was 49.5% White, 9.9% African American, 0.6% Indian, 10.4% Asian, 0.2% indigenous, Pacific Islander, 26.5% races. 48.4% of the population defined their origin as Latin American. In Los Angeles, one of the largest diasporas of the Asian and Latin American population lives among the cities of the United States. The city also has a significant Armenian diaspora

Holidays in Los Angeles

Halloween

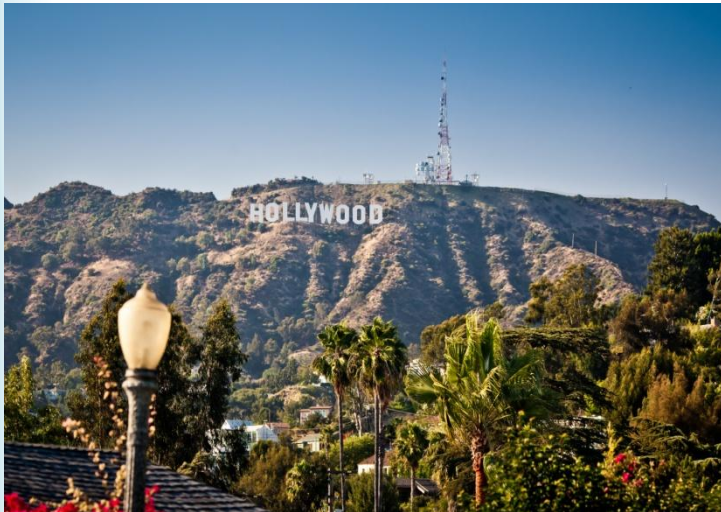

Day of the Dead (Dia de los Muertos)

Halloween, on November 1 and 2, the Mexican community celebrates one of the most important holidays - the Day of the Dead (Dia de los Muertos), dedicated to the memory of the dead. Arrange various with performances at home and on the street, dedicating to this day festive exhibitions and performances, passing from Olvera Street to the Hollywood Cemetery Hollywood Forever Cemetery.

Halloween In late October, everyone in Los Angeles is preparing for the traditional Halloween, celebrated on the eve of All Saints Day, on October 31.

Literally everywhere - in city parks, squares and other public places are houses with ghosts, pumpkins in the form of a head and other attributes of this ancient pagan holiday. Cinemas organize marathons of horror films, and many organizations and communities come up with something new to participate in various costume competitions. During Halloween all around the city everyone is happy and having fun, and in the West Hollywood area there is an unusual carnival that stands out among other events with absolutely outrageous madness.

Hollywood sign

For many decades, Hollywood has been associated with the film industry and television in particular. In this area of Los Angeles, a huge number of American films were filmed. Although today large studios have relocated to other places, Hollywood remains the symbol of film business. Huge white letters against the background of green hills - the main sign of the "dream factory". Hollywood's logo is found in hundreds of films, Americans even play a trick on it, but still guarded as an important and valuable landmark of the country.

THEATRE

Incredible shows and all kinds of shows, the most ambitious projects and beauty contests - which only did not see the elegant and luxurious theater "Kodak" (Dolby Theater), located on the Hollywood Boulevard of Los Angeles. And, of course, this popular attraction, which annually hosts millions of tourists, has its own, special history, which began long ago here, in the entertainment city and the most developed film industry - Los Angeles. Theater "Dolby", where every year one can observe the world stars, going along the red carpet behind the next "Oscar".

The background of the slide features a vibrant scene of pink cherry blossoms in full bloom, with dark brown branches extending across a clear, bright blue sky. Some petals are shown falling, creating a sense of movement and freshness. The overall aesthetic is clean and natural.
