

Do: describe indefinite activities, often with what, thing, anything, nothing, etc and generally speaking we also use do to talk about duties, jobs or (leisure) activities

Make: when we are talking about constructing, creating or performing something

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

make a lasting impression (on someone)

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

do the shopping and the washing up

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

do some serious work

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

do a lot of damage (to something)

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

make an announcement or a speech

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

make an application (for a driving test)

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

make a sound or noise

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

do a lot of harm rather than good

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

do business (with somebody)

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

do (somebody) a favor

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

make a mess, a profit, or a fortune

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

make fun of someone or a fool of someone

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

make amends
for one's behavior

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

Do: indefinite activities, duties, jobs, (leisure) activities
Make: constructing, creating, performing something

make a cake

