

Ministry of Education and Science of Ukraine

Poltava National Technical Yuri Kondratyuk University

Educational and Research Institute of Finance, Economy and Management

Department of Management and Logistics

Welcome New Entrants
2017

Department of Management and Logistics is a unit of Poltava National Technical Yuri Kondratyuk University. Educational and pedagogic process in Department meets requirements of the modern European education. These traditions nowadays continue and develop a highly professional staff of Department.

Head of Department of Management and Logistics is well-known in Ukraine scientist and practitioner of Economics and Management, Doctor of Economics, Professor, Honored Economist of Ukraine Gryshko V.V.

Doctor of Economics,
Professor Gryshko V.V.

Doctor of Economics,
Professor Komelina O.V.

Doctor of Economics,
Professor Zos-Kior M.V.

The Department of Management and Logistics

Department of Management and Logistics at Poltava National Technical Yuri Kondratyuk University has a good material base and scientific potential that significantly expand the capabilities of students' practical training and employment of talented graduates.

The high scientific authority of Department of Management and Logistics confirmed by holding during four years the Second stage of Ukrainian Olympiad from specialty “Management“.

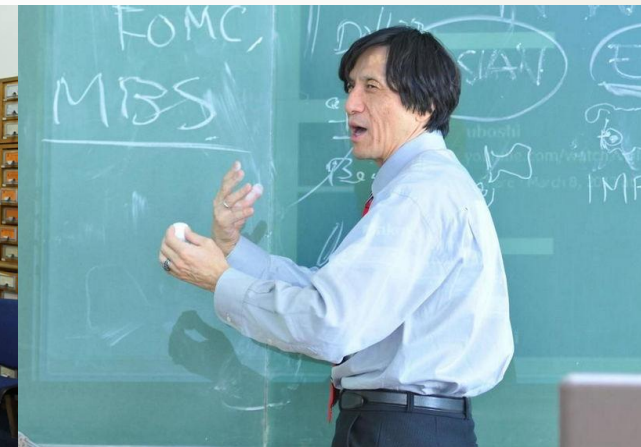

The result of common scientific and research activities of teachers and students was getting meaningful prizes in Nationwide competitions and in Competition of student research works at regional and national levels.

Department of Management and Logistics is constantly expanding the geography of international cooperation to find out new opportunities of its development in the international educational process. A vivid proof of this fact is increasing academic mobility of students, giving lectures by foreign scientist in PoltNTU within academic exchange programs and involvement of teachers to international grant projects.

Many international students choose to study in Poltava National Technical Yuri Kondratyuk University, making our University campus one of the most diverse and multicultural. For over 10 years in University studied students from such countries as Turkmenistan, Azerbaijan, Angola, Qatar, Israel, Uzbekistan, Nigeria, Palestine, Pakistan, Tunisia, Ghana, Morocco, and others.

Enroll with us and you will join a community of outstanding academics who will help you to receive good knowledge, professional experience and skills in the chosen specialty. In addition, you will have an opportunity of individual development through participation in training, seminars, round tables, etc.

As a graduate student, you will gain international diploma that enables employment at any country in the world. Our students work in companies in Poland, Czech Republic, Moldova, Latvia, Lithuania, Germany, etc.

The Department of Management and Logistics

Our University has over 50 cooperation agreements with university centers all over the world.

Recently, Department of Management and Logistics signed new cooperation agreements with leading universities in Europe:

Institute of Economics, Latvian
Academy of Sciences (Riga, Latvia)

Trade Co-operative University of Moldova (Chisinau, Moldova)

Wyższa Szkoła
Menedżerska w
Warszawie
(Warsaw, Poland)

The Department of Management and Logistics

The most active and motivate students who show capacity for analytical thinking, scientific and research work are able to fulfill themselves in scientific clubs such as "Management", "Business Club" and "Personnel agency", which for many years operating at the Department of Management and Logistics.

The Department of Management and Logistics

During thematic sessions of these scientific clubs that take the form of "round tables" and trainings with the involvement of well-known representatives of famous companies and organizations, students learn from the first hand about what experts today are the most in demand in the labor market, how to get a job of your dream at a prestigious company and learn how to realize themselves in their future careers.

However, student life is not only consists of lectures, exams, and conferences, but also consists of art, culture, sports, volunteering, and active participation in the life of the university. These interesting events and unforgettable experience you can get only as a student of PoltNTU, and the good mention of which will warm your heart for long time after graduation in native alma mater.

The Department of Management and Logistics

Happy Students' Life

Among our students, there are many talented individuals who know how to create a real holiday.

Students always advocate for a healthy lifestyle, actively participate in sports competitions not only in university but also at regional levels.

The Department of Management and Logistics

Department of Management and Logistics in Poltava National Technical Yuri Kondratyuk University offers undergraduate and postgraduate degree programs.

We invite entrants for obtaining undergraduate educational degree “Bachelor of Management” on the basis of complete secondary education.

Also, graduates can obtain postgraduate educational degree “Master” on the basis of basic higher education on such specializations:

- Master of Management and Administration
- Master of Management of Innovation Activity
- Master of Logistics

The Department of Management and Logistics

Undergraduate educational degree “Bachelor of Management”

Main places where our student could work after their graduation: enterprises of production and non-production sphere; organizations; state institutions; insurance companies; consulting organizations, innovative structures and enterprises; commercial enterprises; hotel and restaurant businesses; financial institutions.

Main positions: manager of regional development; manager of communication technologies; marketing manager; manager of supply; sales manager; manager of administrative activities; manager of logistics; manager of foreign economic activity; advertising manager; HR manager; trade manager; manager in hotel industry; restaurant and cafe manager; manager of insurance; manager of financial intermediation; quality systems manager.

The Department of Management and Logistics

Postgraduate educational degree “Master”

Main places where our student could work after their graduation: enterprises of production and non-production sphere; organizations; state institutions; insurance companies; consulting organizations, innovative structures and enterprises; commercial enterprises; hotel and restaurant businesses; financial institutions.

Key positions: general manager; head of department; head of financial, accounting, economic and administrative units; entrepreneur; director of innovative projects and programs; manager of intellectual property; manager of investment projects; head of projects and programs in the sphere of material production; director of the company; researcher; manager to trade; manager in hotel and restaurant administration; manager of insurance; manager of financial intermediation; manager of communication technologies; manager of regional development; marketing manager; manager of supply; sales manager; manager of logistics; manager of public relations (PR); manager of foreign economic activity; advertising manager; HR Manager; manager of advisory services; quality systems manager.

You will have the opportunity to get a great degree from a well-respected university, and with our expertise in teaching and training students, you will become an independent, critical thinker. You will also grow as a person, acquiring skills that will continue to be of benefit long after you graduate from university.

The Department of Management and Logistics

Department of Management and Logistics regularly organize open days for entrants and their parents.

If you wish a guided tour of the University or receive more information about training conditions or university activities, please send a request on e-mail: drogomyretska@gmail.com

Foreign students/entrants may apply for more information by following contact:

Tel: +38 (0532) 2-73802 - Foreign students affairs center

E-mail: interoffice.pntu@gmail.com - International cooperation Office

Tel: +38 (066) 539-01-78 - contact person in Department of Management and Logistics (Chaikina Alina)

WELCOME NEW STUDENTS!

Welcome, International Students!

Your successful future starts in our University!

