

The British Museum

- In the UK, a huge number of museums, many of which have free admission.
- One of the most famous - the British Museum in London, which was founded in 1753

The British Museum

- It is a museum of human history and culture. His collection - one of the largest in the world and represent different continents. Firstly, it is a huge library with 6 or 7 million books, which is considered one of the biggest in the world. According to British law, every book, pamphlet or periodical published in Britain, should be kept in this museum. Secondly, the British Museum - it is a scientific institution, known as the Museum of Natural History, which presents a collection of international importance. This place inspires people to think differently about the environment and take better care of our planet.

The British Museum

Finally, the British Museum has a wonderful art gallery puts a unique collection of sculptures, ceramics, drawings and paintings. There is also a large collection of Italian paintings.

Tate Gallery, which was founded in 1897, represents contemporary artists in England and France.

There is an amazing collection of French Impressionists. The museum also has samples of modern sculpture

The British Museum

- London Gallery in London, founded in 1824, has a rich collection of over 2,300 paintings dating from the mid-13th century to 1900. It is located in Trafalgar Square. There you can find the masterpieces of Gainsborough, Turner, Constable, as well as works of French, Spanish, Dutch and Flemish masters.

